This "ad" is about A CERTAIN WATCH we now have in stock. It is a new watch. It has never been carried by anyone. It has not even been carried in our stock very long. We never do carry any stock a great while, anyway. If we did, we would have to quit business. We have goods for sale, and we sell them. We know how to sell goods and we know how to buy goods. This particular watch is a size 18 and has a twenty-year gold-filled and dust proof case. It's an open face WALTHAM watch, and has fifteen jewels. We are going to sell this watch not later than next Wednesday night for $12.50, and who ever heard before of a fifteen jewel WALTHAM being sold for that price. At least come in and look at it. We can show you how to know a good watch when you see one.

We have numerous other articles in the jewelry line, but that's our business. We have been in the jewelry business a long time and we are experts. We want your patronage, and are advertising for that reason.

Don't forget about that watch. Better come in today to see it—it may not be here tomorrow if many Ada people know much about watch values.

A COMMERCIAL CONVENTION

Retailers of the Two Territories Will Make Systematic War on Mail Order Houses

Oklahoma City, July 11.—Following the election of officers, the three business organizations which have been in session in Oklahoma City since Tuesday morning and which combined, have made up what is declared to be the strongest commercial convention ever held in the Southwest, will adjourn at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

That the meetings have been the means of more closely affiliating the business men of the two territories, is the opinion of the delegates. While it is said there will remain some unfinished business when the visitors leave for their homes, it is declared a working basis has been established that will enable the members of the trio of great commercial bodies to accomplish many things for the advancement of the retail trade of Oklahoma and Indian Territory.

Mail order houses, universally recognized as the greatest enemy of the country merchants, will be the target for an organized fight during the next twelve months as a result of the 1907 convention. The question of whether a co-operative insurance company is to be organized will be settled today.

Much interest is centered in the election of officers by the Oklahoma Retailers' association and the Oklahoma Hardware, Vehicle and Implement Dealers' association. The Twin-Territorial Lumbermen's association will not elect officers, its sessions here having been special ones, called that the members might be given an opportunity to enter the fight with the other associations against the catalogue establishments.

MANY MURDERS THIS MONTH.

A Dozen in Western District—Officers Use Caution in Arrests.

Muskogee, I. T., July 11.—When crime breaks forth in a section of Indian Territory it seems to become epidemic. Deputy marshals have long recognized this. It has been due in the Western judicial district. Since the Fourth of July there have been twelve murders reported to the office of Marshal Bennett at that place.

Notwithstanding the number of murders there have not been so many arrests made as might have been expected. When there is a murder, unless the murderer is caught on the spot, it is usually some time before he is captured. Immediately after a killing scrape the murderer has the killing fever on and he will kill a deputy marshal on sight. He is wary and his friends protect him.

After things have cooled down for a week or ten days, an experienced deputy marshal can usually locate the man by friends in the neighborhood and place him under arrest without trouble. Besides it is easier to locate a criminal when he knows he is not pursued.

Deputy marshals know better than to try to arrest a man when he has the killing fever on, unless he can get the drop on him.

In claiming that the scientists of the agricultural department had saved to the people of the United States many millions of dollars in the past year, Secretary Wilson proceeds on the republican plan to claim everything.

Not many women would be able to make the record which Mrs. Frank Doodward of St. Claire, Mich., has established. Hithin a few years she has earned from the state $2,470 for shooting wolves. She and her husband live in a shanty near Ontonagon, Mich., having moved there to benefit Dr. Woodward's health.

MURRAY TO ROOSEVELT

In Personal Letter Pleads With the President to Make Known Objections, if Any, to Constitution

Guthrie, Okla., July 11.—Following the reconvening of the delegates to the constitutional convention yesterday, for the purpose of considering changes in the proposed constitution, President William H. Murray, read in open convention the following letter, which he sent recently to President Roosevelt asking him what in the constitution that should be removed.

Hon. Theodore Roosevelt, President of the United States, Washington, D. C.
My Dear Mr. President—In view of the numerous criticisms through the republican press of the constitution for the proposed state of Oklahoma, and the claim that certain provisions must be eliminated as the price of statehood, I address YOU PERSONALLY this letter, having on, to wit: May 13, 1907, addressed a communication to the honorable attorney general requesting his opinion, and whose reply was to the effect that his opinion can only be given on your direction.

Your attention is called to section 4 of an act of congress of June 16, 1906, entitled "The Enabling Act," which after reciting that the constitution framed in obedience to said act should be submitted under an ordinance prepared by the convention at a date to be fixed in said ordinance. The third sentence in section 4 uses this language:

"And if the constitution and government of said proposed state are republican in form, and the provisions of this act have been complied with in the formation thereof, it shall be the duty of the president of the United States, within twenty days of the receipt of the certificates of the result of said election and the statement of votes cast thereon and a copy of said constitution, articles, propositions and ordinances, to issue his proclamation announcing the result of said election; and thereupon the proposed state of Oklahoma shall be deemed admitted by congress into the union, under and by virtue of this act, on an equal footing with the original states."

The enabling act, as you are aware, contains a greater number of restrictions and limitations upon the sovereignty of the citizens of the proposed state than ever before required of a people in the history of the admission of states. Indeed, it contains all the restrictions and limitations ever enjoined by congress before in the formation of state governments under the federal constitution, and more. In addition to the necessary and proper limitation that the constitution shall not be repugnant to the constitution of the United States, other restrictions are enjoined, to wit: limitations upon the power to tax certain property; the fixing of the state capital at a certain point for a given number of years; and the forming by congress of the five congressional districts—limitations never before required of any state. It is not our purpose to complain of these restrictions and limitations. We have accepted all these in good faith. Notwithstanding their acceptance the republican press is filled with numerous criticisms to the effect that the legislative apportionment is an "outrageous gerrymander," and that other unnamed provisions of the constitution are repugnant to your idea of statecraft and that their elimination is the price of statehood. While we do not yield the point that a state in the exercise of its police powers or in the adoption of its economic policies is either expected or required to frame a constitution to suit either the executive or legislative branch of the United States, yet in view of the uncertainties of statehood which have brought injury to the business interests of this state, and in view of your authority granted by the enabling act to withhold the proclamation granting us statehood, and believing in the integrity of your promise to this people on your trip through these territories, and that you would not further delay the blessing of self-government to one and a half million people, I, as president of the constitutional convention, respectfully request and solicit from you an expression upon the constitution, a copy of which is now on file with the honorable attorney general, and thus give us an opportunity to eliminate any provisions which will be necessary to secure executive approval. In view of the fact that the convention will be reconvened on the 10th day of July, as evidenced by a call a copy of which I herewith send you, your expression of disapproval at this time would enable the constitutional convention to eliminate the objectionable features, if any, and would thus subserve the interests of every citizen in this state, irrespective of party, race or color. I assure you our citizens are committed to statehood as of first importance, and that party success or party advantage sinks into insignificance with all classes in comparison with the one thing, statehood now and without further delay. It is with you, Mr. President, to state the cause of further delay and give us the opportunity to remove them. Since from your executive approval or disapproval there is no appeal, we submit there can be no impropriety in your now stating your opinion on any provision of the constitution. Since your failure would cause you to do so later, why not state them now, and thus save us from further expense and our business interests from irreparable injury?

It being human to err, we are prone to mistake, and shall be glad to accept your superior counsel and advice in the spirit in which I am sure that you would give it, for I am sure that it would be given in the spirit of friendly criticism and wholesome advice, rather than such criticisms as have come through an interested corporate and partisan press as we have in this state, who condemn us without pointing out the objections, and who persistently lead our citizens to believe that they have the promise from you that you will withhold executive proclamation, without giving us the benefit of the knowledge which they claim to possess, of the provisions objectionable to you.

You will observe in the call which I herewith send you, that the undersigned has appointed a committee to take testimony and receive suggestions of any and all persons who attack the integrity and fairness of the legislative apportionment. The charge of "gerrymander" is easily made, but never in framing the legislative districts (which in a measure was a guess, because of the rapid growth and increase in population of the different sections of our territory), did the minority in the convention make a request upon us. I assure you that the overwhelming majority of republicans in this state desire statehood, although the machinery of the party is in the control of those interested, it seems, more in maintaining the appointments than in serving the people, or even their own party, are seeking by court proceedings, the press and otherwise, to create delay and increase the uncertainties to the detriment of the business interests of the state, and to the injury of all classes of our citizens. Trusting that you will immediately state what it is in the constitution that should be removed, if anything, and thus prevent further delay, I am, believe me,

Your obedient servant,

WM. H. MURRAY,

President of the Constitutional Convention for the Proposed State of Oklahoma.

GERONIMO ON WAR PATH.

The Old Chief Wants to Help His Arizona Brothers.

Cache, Okla., July 11.—The old Apache warrior, Geronimo, who terrorized the west for many years with his blood-thirsty band, while attending a celebration at Cache, under parole as the guest of Chief Quanah Parker, made an attempt to escape across the Texas panhandle into New Mexico. Geronimo was missed from the camp for about eight hours, and a detachment of soldiers from Fort Sill captured him several miles out of Cache yesterday.

The warrior had heard of the trouble of the Apaches in Arizona who, according to reports, have threatened to go on the war path. The chief says he wanted to go to his people and help them fight.

NOTHING DONE FIRST DAY

Constitutional Convention Reassembles but Adjourns a Day to Await Committee Reports

Guthrie, Okla., July 11.—With 66 members present, nine more than a jority, the adjourned session of the constitutional convention met here yesterday morning. No business was transacted during the day, and after a brief afternoon session an adjournment was taken until 9 o'clock tomorrow morning, in order that the democratic caucus might have time to complete its work on the reports of the "kick" and ordinance committees.

The feature of the morning session, which commenced at 10 o'clock, was the reading by President Murray of his letter to President Roosevelt, asking for any objection the president might have to the proposed constitution. The ten-word reply, sent by Wm. Loeb, secretary to the president, was also read to the effect that Mr. Murray's letter had been received and filed with the attorney general.

The convention confirmed the appointments during recess by President Murray of the members of the "kick" and ordinance committees, and Gabe Parker, delegate from Academy county, was appointed a committee of one to confer with William C. Hunt, supervisor in charge of taking the census, in regard to the probable time the work will be completed and the results made public.

A recess was taken until 3 o'clock in the afternoon, but upon the reassembling of the convention another adjournment was taken until today.

Six of the twelve republican members of the convention were present when the roll was called. They were Hopkins of Muskogee, Cobb of Sapulpa, Hudson of Henryetta, Asp and Jenkins of Guthrie and Sater of Stillwater. On the floor of the convention were many prominent men of the state, including both democratic candidates for United States senator, Robert L. Owen of Muskogee and T. P. Gore of Lawton.

President Murray reported a number of responses to his recent proclamation asking for funds to defray convention clerk hire. The majority of the checks received are personal subscriptions and range in amount from $1 to $10, although a few for larger amounts have been received.

OWEN HOLDS HIS FEE.

Doesn't Have to Cut the $750,000 with Other Lawyers.

Washington, July 11.—The supreme court of the District of Columbia has decided against Dudley & Michener, Washington attorneys, in a suit they brought against Robert L. Owen of Muskogee for $10,000. The Washington attorneys claimed a fee of that amount was due under a contract said to have been entered into between them and Owen in connection with the claim of the Eastern Cherokees against the United States.

The claim was collected. Congress appropriated 5,000,000, of which Owen is said to have received $750,000 fees. Owen interposed as a defense that under his contract it was necessary for the lawyers to prove their services in the court of claims, and failure to do so precluded any recovery. The court sustained the view of the defense and rendered judgment in favor of the defendant. Dudley & Michener gave notice of appeal.

GET THE "VET"

Don't doctor your horse, when you don't know how. Or try your crude knowledge on sheep, hog or cow. You will fail every time in effecting a cure. While sickness and pain the beast will endure.

Don't doctor your horse, as some other man said, And keep up the treatment until he is half dead; Then finding that no good results you can get, You have to call in the experienced "VET."

Don't doctor your horse until he's gone past all hope, From the evil effects of injurious dope. The neighbors may tell you of cases they've known. But your horse will soon travel to his last home.

In a case too far gone, the "VET" can not save, Or raise up an animal half in the grave. But sent for in time, his experience and skill Saves an animal sick that your efforts would kill.

Don't kick on the "VET" if you get him too late. No science or skill new life can create; Don't curse the "doc" if his efforts may fail; In disease gone too far, no methods avail.

In veterinary science, as in medical line, Disease must be treated at earliest time; When sickness has reached the last, fatal stage, If the doctor don't cure, don't get in a rage.

POLITICS AND THE CENSUS.

While Chief Statistician Hunt of the census bureau is getting ready to begin the count of heads in Oklahoma and Indian Territory, there is a curiosity to know if it is to be a fair count and the square deal, or only a political census after the alleged fashion of the enumeration of 1900.

If the figures do not lie, there are still many ways of making them accessories to falsehood. Texas, for instance, claims that the census of 1900 was made to lie about her by the simple trick of not employing enough enumerators to make a full count.

It has been pointed out by the Houston Post that in 1900 one-third more enumerators were employed in Minnesota than in Texas, though a vast deal more of ground was to be covered in Texas, and the population of Minnesota was not much more than half that of the Lone Star State.

In touching upon this subject some time ago the Post reached the logical conclusion that if Minnesota, a republican state was not oversupplied with enumerators in 1900, the democratic state of Texas was woefully undersupplied. At any rate, there is a persistent belief that democratic states were slighted and undercounted in the enumeration of 1900.

This is not the sort of political census that is wanted of Statistician Hunt in Oklahoma. The evident purpose of the enumeration being to ascertain if the democrats in the constitutional convention gerrymandered the new state as much as the republicans would have done if they had been in the majority. Mr. Hunt should be careful to distribute his enumerators evenly throughout the districts and see that they count the republicans as zealously as they do the democrats.

Politics and the desire to discredit the work of the convention being the main purpose of this census, Mr. Hunt should be careful to keep his work free from the suspicion of unfair politics. The Oklahoma census affords a good opportunity for practice in making a full, fair and politically impartial count of heads. It may save much trouble in the national census of 1910.—St. Louis Republic.

HISTORIC FORT GIBSON SOLD.

Famous Commanders Stationed There. Visited by Other Notables.

Muskogee, I. T., July 11.—The Town and Country club at Fort Gibson, owned by Muskogee men has been sold at private sale to Frank J. Boudinot. The sale included the historic buildings at Fort Gibson that were built fifty years ago and occupied by the officers when Fort Gibson was an army post. Boudinot is a Cherokee and bought the buildings as a matter of sentiment. The consideration is said to have been $10,000.

Fort Gibson was established in 1819. Among the United States officers, who commanded there was Zachariah Taylor, afterwards president of the United States, and Jefferson Davis, afterwards president of the Southern Confederacy. Mrs. M. J. Ross of Fort Gibson, wife of ex-chief W. P. Ross, was well acquainted with Miss Bettie Taylor, before she married Jefferson Davis, who at that time was an untitled lieutenant, and married Miss Taylor without the consent of her parents. Jefferson Davis afterwards commanded the post of Fort Gibson until called to active duty in the Mexican war. The house in which Jefferson Davis lived at Fort Gibson was torn down a few years ago. It was a large double log house, two stories high.

Another noted character of national repute who lived at Fort Gibson was General Sam Houston. History records that he resigned the governorship of Tennessee, left his newly married wife, went west and joined the Cherokees. He lived several years at Fort Gibson, assuming the Indian garb of that time. He lived for a time with old Chief Johnnie Cake, near the Arkansas river, below the old fort. He was at times addicted to heavy drinking and was both feared and honored by the Cherokees, who admired him for his learning and bravery. He married a Cherokee woman.

General Scott made several visits to Fort Gibson. General Robert E. Lee and General McClellan were also there on tours of inspection. Colonel Coppinger commanded there when he was visited by ames G. Blaine, his father-in-law, who was taken ill and lay about six weeks in the stone house on Garrison hill, now occupied by Jas. Coleman. General Arbuckle at one time commanded there also. In the 1830's Fort Gibson was an important post and at one time contained about 5,000 troops and was well fortified.

The noted American writer, Washington Irving visited Fort Gibson and wrote his "Tales of a Traveler" in a tent just outside the parade ground on Garrison hill. The beginning of the second paragraph of his book, entitled "A Tour of the Prairies," reads as follows:

"It was early in October, 1832, that I arrived at Fort Gibson, a frontier post of the Far West, situated on the Neosho, or Grand river, near its confluence with the Arkansas."

In 1846 Longfellow, on a tour of observation in the West, visited Fort Gibson by way of the Arkansas and Grand rivers by boat. Next year appeared the book "Evangeline" descriptive of the scenery of the Fort Gibson country.

scenery of the Fort Gibson country is described.

Frantz a Winner.

Guthrie, Okla., July 11.—With one-third of the republican county conventions held in the two territories to select delegates to the convention at Tulsa, all but two of these counties have instructed their delegates for Frank Frantz for the republican nomination for governor. It begins to look like a landslide for Frantz. In all there are about 400 delegates at the present time who are instructed for Frantz. All but one county, Jackson, has declared against the constitution.

While Major and Pottawotomie counties did not instruct their delegations, Majors county being against putting out a state ticket, both conventions endorsed the Frantz administration.

While it is easy for matters to take a decided turn and but few of the counties are heard from, Frantz supporters contend that the wind and the rain usually come from the same direction at the same time and predict a walk away for the governor.

OKLAHOMA NOTES.

(From Kansas City Times.)

The Fourth was celebrated at Duncan by the Rock Island piling fifteen freight cars in the ditch.

C. G. Jones of Oklahoma City is a receptive candidate for chairman of the republican state committee. He is friendly to Jake Hamon and does not want to interfere with Hamon's plans.

Before his return to Guthrie from the "dry" land of Tishomingo, "Alfalfa Bill" Murray was offered what he was wont to call a "grasscutter" at the place where he has been accustomed to buy them. "Nay, nay, not this time; make it a mowing machine with a 16-foot blade," he replied.

Bill Grimes told Dennis Flynn the other day, as they swam in the Pacific, that the wild waves sounded as if they were trying to speak Japanese or give an imitation of a republican caucus in Oklahoma discussing whether or not a state ticket should be nominated.

Republicans who are not entirely pleased with the prospective gubernatorial nomination of Frank Frantz are suggesting that Tom Ferguson would make a good candidate. What Ferguson would say about things on the South Canadian river would suffocate "Alfalfa Bill" Murray with astonishment.

Clarence Douglas said one—a long time ago, however—that it would be glory enough for him to be nominated for the United States senate by the republican party, even if he should be defeated. Colonel Jim Harris, Colonel Jake Hamon and Judge Raymond might do well to remember this when they begin their surgical operation on the big watermelon.

How to Make it Work.

Says an exchange: If you toot your little tooter and then lay away your horn, there's not a soul in ten short days will know that you were born. The man who gathers pumpkins is the man who plows all day, and the man who keeps a-humping is the man who makes it pay. The man who advertises with a short and sudden jerk is the man who blames the editor because it never works. The man who gets the business has a strong and steady pull, and keeps his trade and paper from year to year quite full. He plans his advertisements in a thoughtful, honest way, and keeps forever at it until he makes it pay.

My Lady Nicotine.

On "My Lady Nicotine" the people of the United States spend twelve times as much cash as spent on the ministers of the gospel. Our tobacco bill is annually double that of our bill for public education or for all the furniture in our houses.

We pay out more money for the fragrant weed than we spend for sugar. Every time we spend ten cents for bread, we hand over four cents for tobacco.

All the gold coined in this country last year would fall far short of covering our smoking account by nearly $100,000,000, for we spend yearly for cigarettes, cigars, smoking and chewing tobacco and snuff more than $300,000,000.

The money paid by Americans for smoking equals the amount paid for shoes for our 80,000,000 inhabitants. Smokers burn up an equivalent in currency 150 times the sum burned up in fireworks. The vast fortune that we swap for the comfort of smoking, shewing and snuffing would build thirty structures like the national capitol at Washington.

Every year we smoke nearly 80,000,000 cigars, cheroots, stogies and all-tobacco cigarettes, 3,500,000 cigarettes with paper wrappers and consume 300,000,000 pounds of smoking and chewing tobacco and snuff.

Would Enjoin Cock's Crow.

Chicago, Ill., July 11.—"A law to prevent roosters from crowing at an unearthly hour in the morning? I don't know, but I'll see. Come in tomorrow."

Corporation Counsel Brundage thus assumed another care of state yesterday when F. Somerfield, 1317 Cornelia avenue, complained against the ungentlemanly bird who presides over G. Imhoff's hennerly.

"Every morning at 2:30 o'clock—" "Yes, I know," interrupted the city's legal adviser. "I used to live in the country, and I'm willing to stop it if I can."

Somerfield will call on Mr. Brundage again tomorrow. He is earnest, and then the rooster bothers him.

Mamma saw a beautiful tree full of snowball blossoms swaying as if it would break and rushed out to see what was the matter. Her little boy, Johnnie, was up the tree shaking it as hard as he could, and the beautiful flowers were falling all over his brother who sat under the tree. She said: "Johnnie, what are you doing?" He answered: "I'm dust playin' I'm Dod and makin' it snow down on Willie."

The highest fall of water ever used for power seems to be that of lake Brusio in Switzerland, where is located the most powerful electric generating station in Europe. The water of the Poschiavino in the Poschiavio valley, is led through a great conduit three miles long to the reservoir, from which five sets of enormous pipes conduct it to the power station at a level 1280 feet lower. Electric energy of 36,000 horsepower is distributed from the generators to points along lakes Como and Maggiore and as far as the great plain of Milan.

In the King's Pockets.

Like every man who values the look of his clothes, King Edward carries very little in his pockets except his handkerchief. In his waistcoat pocket he carries a gold pencil case, a cigar cutter, a little pass key, a gold watch carefully regulated by Greenwich time, and half a dozen sovereigns. In his coat pocket he carries a tiny note book, and in the winter he puts his gloves in the pockets of his top coat. The king never carries a cigar case, except a gold case which holds one cigar, but almost always has a small box of lozenges. Unlike his nephew, the Kaiser, he never carries a fountain pen in his pocket.

Mrs. Yeager, having been absent for some time, returned to her home. She was met at the gate by her colored servant, Matilda Snowball.

"Did anything happen while I was gone," asked Mrs. Yeager.

"De Lor', I should say suffin did happen! We came mighty near havin' the biggest kind of a fire," replied Matilda, rolling her eyes around.

"Where?"

"In your bedroom. You orter be mighty glad I was dar when de fire started. If it wasn't for me bein' dar de hull house would hab been burned down before now."

"So you put out the fire?"

"Yes, mum; I dropped de lamp an' hit kotched de lace curtains, but as luck would hab it, I was dar. If I hadn't been dar when I dropped de lamp, Whoopee! dar's no tellin' what mout hab happened."—Holland's Magazine.

A railroad reporter declared in Upton Sinclair's hearing that freight rebates were sometimes granted purely out of generosity.

Mr. Sinclair, laughing, exclaimed: "Admit that to be true, and still your generosity is no better timed than Alkali Ike's."

"A traveler arrived late at night at the Palace hotel in Tin Can, and being very tired, ordered his dinner to be served in his room.

"As he was peacefully eating his beef steak, he heard a loud noise down stairs, a bang, an oath, two very quick crashes, and then a bullet shot up through the floor and wounded the traveler in the leg.

"Putting down his knife and fork he arose and began to hop about the room with loud groans. Suddenly the landlord burst in on him.

"What did that that bullet go to?" the landlord exclaimed, laughing. "Oh, air ye hurt, stranger? Wall, now that's too bad! Ye see, Alkali Ike and Redface Leary just had an argument over their liquor down at the bar, and fit it out fair and square. Redface fired first and missed, and Ike—the all-fired generous cuss—he fired in the air."

Oklahoma Exhibit.

Norfolk, Va., July 11.—The Oklahoma exhibit has ben opened. It compares favorably with any of the other exhibits on the ground. Crowds throng to see it every day. The exhibit has a good location in the States' exhibit palace.

Oklahoma is the only state showing stereopticon pictures with lecture descriptions. Some 500 Oklahoma scenes are flashed on the canvas. This will be a big ad for Oklahoma.

The widow of Collis P. Huntington has informed friends in Washington of her purpose to reside permanently in Paris. With this object in view she is preparing to close her house in New York and go to the French capital, where there will soon be completed for her a mansion costing nearly $1,000,000. Mrs. Huntington was many years younger than her husband, who left her the bulk of her millions to do with as she might see fit.

LUCK OF FISHERMEN.

Two True Stories of the Rods—One Ada party Lucky, the Other Not.

Two fishing parties of Ada people have returned home after several days of angling in waters reputed to be fairly teeming with the finny tribe.

Rev. T. L. Rippey and Dr. H. Brown, all, with their families, spent ten days on Creek, eighteen miles east of Atoka. Throughout their stay they had remarkable luck and a glorious good time. Besides a large number of unpigreed fish, they caught 116 bass, many weighing from four to six pounds, and seven croppie. Dr. Brown, the veteran of field and stream, is credited with the major portion of the catch.

Will Neathery, W. H. L. Campbell, B. C. King and Howard Parker returned from an excursion down Blue river with a different story. They were on the finest looking water in the territory; they tried every sort of tackle and bait procurable; they raked the waters of the Blue for miles—almost to the Texas border—yet they hooked but one respectable fish. But they had some fun. In the Bohemian life of the camp Eddleman established a reputation as a cook—he is an adept at scrambling fish rare; Parker learned to wash dishes so clean they didn't need washing any more; Campbell learned how to remove rusty taps and grease the wagon in the broiling sun; King is the driver and stump eradicator par excellence—to this the bruises on his and Eddleman's bodies testify; Neathery got all the experience he could as major general commanding the camp.

Didn't Do Much Good.

Gus Angelly and Amos Hayes have returned from Arkansas with their team of Indian ball players, by no means elated over the results of the trip. ### Double Thunderbolt.

Mr. Wilson who lives one mile north of Ada, reports that during the thunder storm Tuesday afternoon his family was frightened by lightning striking the smokehouse. They said it sounded like two distinct reports of a gun. Upon investigation Mr. Wilson found that lightning had actually struck in two distinct places on the building. The damage was slight and no one was hurt.

Narrowly Escaped Drowning.

F. R. Harris, brother of F. O. Harris, had a narrow escape from a watery grave Wednesday morning near Wewoka. He and another man were out looking after some cattle. Coming to a swollen stream, which they were told was safely fordable, they attempted to drive the team across. In mid-stream the flood seized buggy, team and men and swirled them down the channel. Mr. Harris' escape was almost miraculous, considering he became entangled in the harness. Finally both men and horses got safely to land, but the buggy floated on down.

Just a few days before Mr. Harris was hurled against a tree by a horse and seriously hurt. His brother, F. O., has sent him word to come on back to Ada before he gets killed.

ARE LOFTIEST OF MINES.

Worked by Incas and Now to Be Opened by New Company.

It is thought that the old Caylloma silver mines in Peru are probably situated at a greater elevation than any other considerable mines in the world. Their altitude varies between 14,000 and 17,000 feet. They were worked by the Spaniards in the sixteenth century, and before that, it is believed, by the Incas. An English company is now preparing a hydro-electric plant for them. This plant will be situated at an altitude of between 15,000 and 16,000 feet. It will derive its power from a waterfall on the Santiago river, and in a dry season from Lake Huallacho, one of the sources of the Amazon. The power will be transmitted by cable about three miles. At the highest mines the pressure of the atmosphere is only eight and one-half pounds a square inch, and water boils 24 degrees below the ordinary boiling point. —Youth's Companion

An extension of the station platform is being constructed on the west end to facilitate handling of freight.

WRECKS AND WASHOUTS

Traffic on the Frisco Seriously Obstructed—Morning Trains Arrive in the Afternoon.

Traffic on the Frisco has been seriously impeded today on account of two washouts and a derailment.

Several freight cars quit the track four miles north of Francis about 1 o'clock this morning, and the track was so obstructed that the 3 a. m. and the 9:35 a. m. southbound passenger trains did not reach Ada until after midday.

Also there was a washout of a bridge at State Line junction near Red river last night, into which an engine plunged. No one was hurt. The track was washed away below Woodville. The track was restored throughout, however, by noon, and all trains began to run. The morning northbound due at 9:35, is expected to arrive at 4:30 p. m.

A washout is also reported on the M. K. & T. near Atoka, which renders doubtful the time of the northbound arrival this afternoon.

Patriotic Puppies.

Beauty, one of E. E. Parnell's fine Boston terriers, is now the mother of seven beautiful puppies. The Boston terriers, says Mr. Parnell, is the only genuine American breed of the dog family. Considering this and the fact that the little fellows were whelped on the Fourth of July, he thinks his should certainly be patriotic puppies. Their sire is Chauncey Boy, a noted prize winner in the East.

Cotton Abloom.

WHERE WOMEN RULE.

NORWAY, ME., WORLD'S MOST DISTINCTLY FEMININE CITY.

Sex Supreme in All Vocations—Banks, Hotels, Post Office and Meat Markets All Managed by "Skirts."

Norway, Me.—Frills, furbelows and chiffon do the actual business of this bustling thriving New England town. In every line of commerce and finance, trade and profession, the gentler sex of Norway is successfully engaged, and it is the most distinctly "woman's town" in America. The women not only clothe, bat and shoe the population, but they gracefully preside over meat markets, the post office and three hotels. The women of Norway marry the living and bury the dead. Legal disputes are settled by a feminine justice of the peace. Sick and wounded are administered to by a woman doctor. The countryside is photographed by another woman. For 22 years the checks of the bank have been cashed by a small white woman's hand, while a quarter of a century is the period that a woman has swayed the morals, opinions and politics of the town through the columns of her paper. A director in the street railway and the corporation that lights the village is a woman, and she attends each and every meeting of the directorate and gets her pay for attendance with the same regularity that old Uncle Russell Sage did. Yet it cannot be said that the fair ones of Norway compete with the men. The latter are too gallant to permit of competition. They simply loll back in their big comfortable arm chairs and admiringly tell what their women "folks" can do. The S. B. & Z. S. Prince store is not only owned by two sisters, but everything in the shop is done by women. The only connection that a man can have with this establishment is as a purchaser. Across the street from Miss Prince is a shoe store conducted by Miss Edith Smith. Mrs. Laura A. Sanborn can set the type, feed the press and set up the copy for the Norway Advertiser as easily as she can write its editorials.

"I was a good adder and that is the why I started in the banking business," is the modest explanation that Cashier Stella R. Pike gives of her association with the Norway National bank. "I soon found out, though, that it took more than an adder of figures to be a financier. But women are especially adapted for the banking business. We are by nature honest, and that is the thing that tells in a bank."

If there is not a preacher handy and a couple wish to get married, Miss Margaret A. Baker is the one whom the swain seeks out. As the justice of the peace she is permitted to perform the marriage ceremony, to acknowledge deeds and administer oaths.

This justice of the peace has a clever young sister, Miss Jennie P. Baker. She is one of the most capable business women in Norway, managing a large dry goods store, the proprietor of which lives in Portland. Miss Jennie is about 25 years old.

Caring for the dead is one of the necessary things of life. Miss Grace Thayer owns a large undertaking establishment and is licensed as an undertaker.

For eight years Dr. Annette Bennett has been the town physician.

The walls of the studio of Miss Minnie F. Libby are covered with such fine examples of photography that her art should have a national reputation.

The hotel women of this place are noted far and near. Martha C. Whitmarsh came to be the proprietor of the Elm house. She delights to tell of the times, 40 years ago, when the stage, with four, used to dash up to her tavern door. Mrs. Lizzie Woodman is the proprietor of the Beale house. Her sister, Mrs. Ella Tibbitts, was also a hotel keeper, but she has retired rich.

One of the biggest butcher shops in Norway is run by Mrs. Owen P. Brookes, whose husband insists that he never made money until his wife was behind the counter.

There are a couple of women among the large group of money-makers who attend simply to the growing of their fortunes. Miss Elizabeth B. Beal is a director in the Norway & Paris Street Railway company, and she is also a director in the corporation that operates the electric lighting and power for the village and adjacent land.

There is little or no crime in Norway. The town has not a saloon, and liquor is not even sold on the quiet. The men do smoke, but the women are hoping that the time will come, and come soon, when this "vicious" habit will not be indulged in by the voting population.

IN SOUTH AFRICAN GOLD MINE.

A rock drill in a mine in the Rand.

GAVE ROAD TO AFRICA

JAMES STEVENSON, SCOTCHMAN, DONATED $25,000 FOR WORK.

Route Lies Between North End of Lake Nyassa and South End of Lake Tanganyika, Distance of 211 Miles.

London.—James Stevenson, a wealthy Scotchman, gave $25,000 to build a road between the north end of Lake Nyassa and the south end of Lake Tanganyika in Central Africa about 25 years ago. He was convinced that nothing would help more to develop Africa than good highways. It took two years to build the road, and it was well built. Its length is 211 miles. Apart from the great usefulness of the road the white men there have always said that it has been a powerful civilizing agency.

It has helped to accustom the natives of that densely populated region to work for the white, and to use calico and other European articles. The work of construction was the first instance on a large scale of the utilization of native labor in Central Africa. Many trained laborers now live along the road and engage in transport service between the two great lakes.

This highway is known as the Stevenson road. Mr. Chrapkovski, an official in the German service, who recently traveled over the road, has written an interesting account of it.

He says that though nothing has been done to maintain the road built 25 years ago, it is still, with the single exception of the road between Victoria Nyanza and Tanganyika, the best highway in Central Africa. As nothing has been done to maintain the road, it is now covered with grass, but travelers say this is really an advantage, as the vegetation has helped to keep the road from washing, and it is also better for the feet of the carriers, who dislike to walk on those stretches where there is no grass, for it is as hard as stone and hurts their feet.

The usefulness of the road is proved by the fact that porters carrying 60 pounds on their backs make an average of 20 miles a day, while the usual journey is only ten miles. The road passes entirely through British territory, and the government has erected a station every 20 miles where caravans may spend the night.

There is provision at each station to put all the freight under cover, comfortable brick and concrete houses afford excellent conditions for a good night's rest, and there are cookhouses where the meals of the caravan are prepared. One of the neighboring chiefs is held responsible for the cleanliness and good order of each station. He receives a monthly salary of a few shillings from the government, and a few yards of calico from each caravan passing over the route.

GOES TO PRISON AT 81 YEARS.

Dangerous Counterfeiter Is Sent to Penitentiary at Advanced Age.

Philadelphia.—"Old Sam" Tate, said to be the most dangerous counterfeiter in the country, has been sent to the eastern penitentiary by Judge Holland for eight years.

Since 1872 Tate has spent more than half of his time in jail, and it is probable that his sentence will finish him, for he told the court yesterday that he was 81 years old. William Ingber and Charles Busramonte, who were tried with him, were sentenced to 18 months and three years respectively.

Only last March Tate was on trial for counterfeiting, with George Ward, Michael Joyce, James Gaughan and Catherine O'Donnell, but by shrewd coaching of the other defendants Tate was acquitted. Ward, Joyce and Gaughan were sent to prison, and the O'Donnell woman, although convicted, was released in her own recognizance.

Tate put up a hard fight. His counsel declared that he was being "systematically hounded" by the secret service men; that he was a reputable junk dealer and that in the course of his business he had come into possession of the supposed counterfeiting material found in his house by the operatives.

NAMES SHIRT-WAIST INSPECTOR.

Mayor Busse, of Chicago, Appoints Female Garment Critics.

Chicago.—A "shirt-waist inspector" is the latest addition to the city hall pay roll. Just what the remuneration and the duties of the inspector are to be no one exactly knows, but because Mrs. Ida Cross is displeased with a 69-cent shirt waist she purchased at a state street department store, the inspector was appointed. Louis M. Featherstone, whose knowledge of the secrets of the construction of the "peekaboo" and other shirt waists is said to be above reproach, is the first "inspector."

His appointment was made because Mayor Busse and the other heads of the city hall are too gallant to see one of the fair sex in trouble.

Monday afternoon, being bargain day, Mrs. Cross purchased a shirt waist that attracted her attention in a store. After taking it home her ideas changed, and she returned it and asked that her money be refunded. A polite refusal followed, with the explanation that the waist was slightly soiled. If Mrs. Cross would pay to have it laundered the company would be glad to refund the difference, she was told.

Appeals to the managers of the store proved fruitless; they gave the same reply. Having heard that Mayor Busse is a friend of those in trouble,

Mrs. Cross told him her story and asked his aid.

"I will appoint a special 'shirt waist' inspector," he exclaimed. "Here, Featherstone, you know all about shirt waists, don't you?"

"Surely," replied the unsuspecting Featherstone. "Peekaboo, fancy and plain. Linen, calico or silk. Plaited—" "That's enough. You are now the official shirt waist inspector for the city of Chicago. Look into this."

Museum Gets 1800 B. C. Statue.

New York.—Theodore H. Davis, the archaeologist, has arrived from Europe, bringing with him one of the oldest relics in the world. This is an alabaster statue of Queen Teie, a famous Egyptian, whose tomb Mr. Davis recently discovered. The statue dates from 1800 B. C. It will be presented to the Metropolitan Museum of Art. Mr. Davis said that they worked three years excavating the tombs of the kings in Thebes, and it will be two years more before the work is completed.

BABY HAS A RECORD

SIX-YEAR-OLD GIRL TRAVELS 200,000 MILES.

Meets Pope and the President—Roosevelt Gave Her Flowers, but Leo's Reception Was Not So Effusive.

Boston.—With a traveling record of about 200,000 miles to her credit, the "Baby Globetrotter," as Miss Kathryn Leonore Adelia Glenwood Moran is called, has made the announcement she wants to "go to housekeeping," adding she has traveled as much as she cares to and she now prefers to establish and remain in a home of her own.

Miss Leonore is only six years old, but she has visited more different countries and more inaccessible personages than the average diplomat can boast of in a lifetime.

Crowned heads of Europe have recognized the little girl, she was admitted to the presence of the late Pope Leo XIII., being the only child under 12 years who was ever permitted an audience with his Holiness.

"I guess the pope didn't think much about me, though," little Miss Leonore admitted. "He was so old and I was so young, but I remember President Roosevelt very well. He seemed 'deighted' to see me, and gave me a bouquet of flowers from his library table and I carried them with me to have a photograph taken. We were at Glenwood Springs, Col., when he was out there on his big hunt, and our hotel was the executive headquarters. That is where I was born, and I think that of all the places I have ever seen I prefer Glenwood Springs to all others. You see, part of my name is 'Glenwood.'"

"Yes, my name is rather long," little Miss Leonore said as she sat on a chair out of all proportions to her size and chatted about herself with a newspaper representative. The name under discussion did seem burdensome long for the delicate, dainty miss with blue eyes, who could talk with such familiarity of personages and places.

"I am sometimes called 'Miss Kathryn,' but I much prefer 'Miss Leonore,'" she said with childish sweetness.

While she has received unusual attention on account of her intelligence, the little "globetrotter" has not forfeited a winning childish manner and talks of her travels as naturally as most children talk of their toys. She has been interviewed for numerous papers and was the subject of an article in a Tokio paper, when the only thing she was able to read was her own name. She afterward received about 50 post cards from Japanese children.

Miss Leonore is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Moran, of Chicago. Mr. Moran is one of the best-known newspaper men in the west and was one time managing editor of the Chicago Times. Like her father, the little girl inclines toward a literary career.

"I expect to begin to write as soon as we go to housekeeping," she announced, "that's one reason why I think that we should settle down. I can't do very much this way, you know. We are going to the Klondike this summer, again. Our trip up there last summer was interesting. Beautiful flowers grow beside the snow banks, but I feel that I have traveled enough. I want to go to Glenwood and live quietly for a change."

OLD CUSTOM FROM GERMANY.

Goshenhoppen Reformed Church Decorates 2,000 Graves.

Pennsburg, Pa.—A religious observance altogether new in southeastern Pennsylvania, and probably conducted for the first time in the United States, took place the other day at the New Goshenhoppen Reformed church. It was a service in memory of the dead, and the principal feature was the decoration of 2,000 graves in the graveyard with flowers. The idea was suggested to Rev. C. M. De Long, pastor, when he visited Nuremberg, Germany, some years ago. One Sunday in June nearly the whole populace assembled in the cemeteries, placed flowers on the graves and then attended religious service.

All afternoon and next morning until ten o'clock the members of the congregation brought great quantities of flowers to the churchyard and placed them on the graves. When the time arrived for beginning the services the great expanse of flower-decked graves presented a scene of rare beauty. An appropriate sermon was preached by Rev. Mr. De Long.

Strange Bird Is Shot.

Knoxville, Tenn.—Inhabitants in the region of Zion's Mill, Lee county, Virginia, are greatly puzzled over the discovery of a strange bird in the mountains near by. J. F. Witt, a merchant of that place. The bird is of great size, measuring nine feet from tip to tip. The feathers are perfectly white, except the tips of the wings, which are black.

Its head and bill are 18 inches in length, its webbed feet are seven inches across. A great pouch under its bill holds a gallon of water and this gives the idea that the bird must be of the pelican family, found in southern waters. It is supposed that the bird was driven to the north by a storm and lost its bearings. It will be brought here, mounted and exhibited.

WINS FORTUNE IN ALASKA.

Miner Patents Piece of Ground Overlooked by Famous Company.

Siox Falls, S. D.—John Johnston, a former resident of western South Dakota, according to letters which have been received from Juneau, Alaska, where he now is, has "struck it rich" and is in a fair way to become a millionaire.

He at present is having a contest in the courts with the famous Treadwell Mining company over a strip of valuable mining ground which the company was supposed to own, but which it is alleged was never properly located. Johnston located the strip under the mining laws of the district and applied for a patent, but this was held up and delayed by various court processes until recently, when the application for the patent was granted.

The railroad of the Treadwell company, part of one of the company's great mills, and some new oil tanks belonging to the company are all on the strip of ground to which Johnston has obtained a patent. The strip is between the big dividend payers of the Treadwell company, and it was a serious proposition to the company to learn that so valuable a piece of mining property had been overlooked.

In addition to this strip, Johnston has received patent for a group of copper claims on Kopperinoff island, for which he has been offered the sum of $75,000. He also has recently concluded a sale of some property on Douglas island for $150,000. Johnston announces that he will make a visit to his old home in South Dakota this summer.

Man Takes Bride's Name.

Baltimore, Md.—Dr. Annie E. Copelan was married to Abraham E. E. Copelan, formerly Abraham E. E. Copelan, who received her M. D. from the University of Maryland four years ago, has built up a fine practice. She loves E. E., but she did not wish to have her shingle relettered "Dr. Annie R. E. E. Copelan, formerly Copelan."

So Mr. E. E., a student in the university dental department, decided that the best thing to do was to change his name to Copelan, and the courts obliged him.

Friends of the Copelans foresee confusion when Copelan, born E. E., becomes D. D. S. Suppose a man dislocates his thigh and hobbles to the Copelan office, "Is Dr. Copelan in?" "Yes. Which one do you want, your leg or your tooth?"

A Novel Church on Wheels.

Unique Chapel Car, With Bishop Hennessy in Charge, to Tour Kansas.

Wichita, Kan.—A chapel car, the only one of its kind in the world, has been brought to Wichita from Chicago. The car was made in the Pullman car shops at Pullman, Ill., a suburb of Chicago.

The chapel car will be in charge of Bishop Hennessy until next December. In this time the bishop, assisted by a priest and a cook, will tour the branch lines of the railroads through Kansas. He will stop at the towns and gather the scattered members of the church for the purpose of administering to them the sacraments of the church, instructing the young and lending financial assistance to the poor.

The first of the novel religious ceremonies in connection with the chapel car was seen in Chicago, when the small, convenient church on wheels was dedicated under the auspices of the Catholic Church Extension society by Archbishop Quigley, of Chicago.

The "chapel car" is the gift of Ambrose Perry, of New York. Excepting the pope's private chapel car, which has never been used, it is the only one of the kind.

The car was built on the model of the Pullman private car. It is fitted with the necessary accessories for travel. It contains two sleeping apartments, a kitchen and a library. The distinctive feature is the chapel, built to accommodate 50 persons. It contains an altar and a confessional, where the various sacraments of the church can be administered. The car, with its fittings, is valued at $15,000.

Historic Cottage to Go.

New York.—Summer residents at Easthampton, L. I., are disappointed to learn that the John Howard Payne "Home, Sweet Home" cottage there is likely to be sold within a few days to a Brooklyn man. He is expected to so alter and remodel it as to destroy its identity. When the wardens of St. Luke's Episcopal church bought the Payne property last year, some of the summer cottagers endeavored to raise a fund with which to buy the cottage, but without success.

This "ad" is about A CERTAIN WATCH we now have in stock. It is a new watch. It has never been carried by anyone. It has not even been carried in our stock very long. We never do carry any stock a great while, anyway. If we did, we would have to quit business. We have goods for sale, and we sell them. We know how to sell goods and we know how to buy goods. This particular watch is a size 18 and has a twenty-year gold-filled and dust proof case. It's an open face WALTHAM watch, and has fifteen jewels. We are going to sell this watch not later than next Wednesday night for $12.50, and who ever heard before of a fifteen jewel WALTHAM being sold for that price. At least come in and look at it. We can show you how to know a good watch when you see one.

We have numerous other articles in the jewelry line, but that's our business. We have been in the jewelry business a long time and we are experts. We want your patronage, and are advertising for that reason. Don't forget about that watch. Better come in today to see it—it may not be here tomorrow if many Ada people know much about watch values.

A COMMERCIAL CONVENTION

Retailers of the Two Territories Will Make Systematic War on Mail Order Houses

Oklahoma City, July 11.—Following the election of officers the three business organizations which have been in session in Oklahoma City since Tuesday morning and which combined have made up what is declared to be the strongest commercial convention ever held in the Southwest will adjourn at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

That the meetings have been the means of more closely affiliating the business men of the two territories is the opinion of the delegates. While it is said there will remain some unfinished business when the visitors leave for their homes it is declared a working basis has been established that will enable the members of the trio of great commercial bodies to accomplish many things for the advancement of the retail trade of Oklahoma and Indian Territory.

MANY MURDERS THIS MONTH.

A Dozen in Western District—Officers Use Caution in Arrests.

Muskogee, I. T., July 11.—When crime breaks forth in a section of Indian Territory it seems to become epidemic. Deputy marshals have long recognized this. It has been due in the Western judicial district. Since the Fourth of July there have been twelve murders reported to the office of Marshal Bennett at that place.

Notwithstanding the number of murders there have not been so many arrests made as might have been expected. When there is a murder unless the murderer is caught on the spot it is usually some time before he is captured. Immediately after a killing scrape the murderer has the killing fever on and he will kill a deputy marshal on sight. He is wary and his friends protect him.

After things have cooled down for a week or ten days an experienced deputy marshal can usually locate the man by friends in the neighborhood and place him under arrest without trouble. Besides it is easier to locate a criminal when he knows he is not pursued.

Deputy marshals know better than to try to arrest a man when he has the killing fever on unless he can get the drop on him.

MURRAY TO ROOSEVELT

In Personal Letter Pleads With the President to Make Known Objections, if Any, to Constitution

Guthrie, Okla., July 11.—Following the reconvening of the delegates to the constitutional convention yesterday, for the purpose of considering changes in the proposed constitution, President William H. Murray, read in open convention the following letter which he sent recently to President Roosevelt asking him what in the constitution that should be removed.

Hon. Theodore Roosevelt, President of the United States, Washington, D. C.
My Dear Mr. President—In view of the numerous criticisms through the republican press of the constitution for the proposed state of Oklahoma, and the claim that certain provisions must be eliminated as the price of statehood I address YOU PERSONALLY this letter having on, to wit, May 13, 1907, addressed a communication to the honorable attorney general requesting his opinion and whose reply was to the effect that his opinion can only be given on your direction.

Your attention is called to section 4 of an act of congress of June 16, 1906, entitled "The Enabling Act" which after reciting that the constitution framed in obedience to said act should be submitted under an ordinance prepared by the convention at a date to be fixed in said ordinance. The third sentence in section 4 uses this language:

And if the constitution and government of said proposed state are republican in form and the provisions of this act have been complied with in the formation thereof it shall be the duty of the president of the United States within twenty days of the receipt of the certificates of the result of said election and the statement of votes cast thereon and a copy of said constitution articles, propositions and ordinances, to issue his proclamation announcing the result of said election, and thereupon the proposed state of Oklahoma shall be deemed admitted by congress into the union under and by virtue of this act on an equal footing with the original states.

The enabling act, as you are aware contains a greater number of restrictions and limitations upon the sovereignty of the citizens of the proposed state than ever before required of a people in the history of the admission of states. Indeed it contains all the restrictions and limitations ever enjoined by congress before in the formation of state governments under the federal constitution and more. In addition to the necessary and proper limitation that the constitution shall not be repugnant to the constitution of the United States other restrictions are enjoined to wit limitations upon the power to tax certain property the fixing of the state capital at a certain point for a given number of years and the forming by congress of the five congressional districts—limitations never before required of any state. It is not our purpose to complain of these restrictions and limitations. We have accepted all these in good faith. Notwithstanding their acceptance the republican press is filled with numerous criticisms to the effect that the legislative apportionment is an outrageous gerrymander, and that other unnamed provisions of the constitution are repugnant to your idea of statecraft and that their elimination is the price of statehood. While we do not yield the point that a state in the exercise of its police powers or in the adoption of its economic policies is either expected or required to frame a constitution to suit either the executive or legislative branch of the United States yet in view of the uncertainties of statehood which have brought injury to the business interests of this state, and in view of your authority granted by the enabling act to withhold the proclamation granting us statehood, and believing in the integrity of your promise to this people on your trip through these territories, and that you would not further delay the blessing of self-government to one and a half million people, I, as president of the constitutional convention, respectfully request and solicit from you an expression upon the constitution, a copy of which is now on file with the honorable attorney general, and thus give us an opportunity to eliminate any provisions which will be necessary to secure executive approval. In view of the fact that the convention will be reconvened on the 10th day of July, as evidenced by a call a copy of which I herewith send you, your expression of disapproval at this time would enable the constitutional convention to eliminate the objectionable features, if any, and would thus subserve the interests of every citizen in this state irrespective of party race or color. I assure you our citizens are committed to statehood as of first importance, and that party success or party advantage sinks into insignificance with all classes in comparison with the one thing statehood now and without further delay. It is with you, Mr. President, to state the cause of further delay and give us the opportunity to remove them. Since from your executive approval or disapproval there is no appeal we submit there can be no impropriety in your now stating your opinion on any provision of the constitution. Since your failure would cause you to do so later why not state them now and thus save us from further expense and our business interests from irreparable injury?

It being human to err we are prone to mistake and shall be glad to accept your superior counsel and advice in the spirit in which I am sure that you would give it. For I am sure that it would be given in the spirit of friendly criticism and wholesome advice, rather than such criticisms as have come through an interested corporate and partisan press as we have in this state who condemn us without pointing out the objections and who persistently lead our citizens to believe that they have the promise from you that you will withhold executive proclamation without giving us the benefit of the knowledge which they claim to possess of the provisions objectionable to you.

You will observe in the call which I herewith send you that the undersigned has appointed a committee to take testimony and receive suggestions of any and all persons who attack the integrity and fairness of the legislative apportionment. The charge of gerrymander is easily made but never in framing the legislative districts (which in a measure was a guess because of the rapid growth and increase in population of the different sections of our territory), did the minority in the convention make a request upon us. I assure you that the overwhelming majority of republicans in this state desire statehood although the machinery of the party is in the control of those interested it seems more in maintaining the appointments than in serving the people, or even their own party are seeking by court proceedings the press and otherwise to create delay and increase the uncertainties to the detriment of the business interests of the state and to the injury of all classes of our citizens. Trusting that you will immediately state what it is in the constitution that should be removed if anything, and thus prevent further delay, I am, believe me

Your obedient servant,

WM. H. MURRAY,
President of the Constitutional Convention for the Proposed State of Oklahoma

GERONIMO ON WAR PATH.

The Old Chief Wants to Help His Arizona Brothers.

Cache, Okla., July 11.—The old Apache warrior, Geronimo, who terrorized the west for many years with his blood-thirsty band, while attending a celebration at Cache, under parole as the guest of Chief Quansah Parker, made an attempt to escape across the Texas panhandle into New Mexico. Geronimo was missed from the camp for about eight hours, and a detachment of soldiers from Fort Sill captured him several miles out of Cache yesterday.

The warrior had heard of the trouble of the Apaches in Arizona who, according to reports, have threatened to go on the war path. The chief says he wanted to go to his people and help them fight.

NOTHING DONE FIRST DAY

Guthrie, Okla., July 11.—With 66 members present, nine more than a fortnight ago, the constitutional convention met here yesterday morning. No business was transacted during the day, and after a brief afternoon session an adjournment was taken until 9 o'clock tomorrow morning. In order that the democratic caucus might have time to complete its work on the reports of the kick and ordinance committees.

The feature of the morning session which commenced at 10 o'clock was the reading by President Murray of his letter to President Roosevelt asking for any objection the president might have to the proposed constitution. The ten-word reply sent by Wm. Loeb, secretary to the president, was also read to the effect that Mr. Murray's letter had been received and filed with the attorney general.

The convention confirmed the appointments during recess by President Murray of the members of the kick and ordinance committees and Gabe Parker, delegate from Academy county, was appointed a committee of one to confer with William C. Hunt, supervisor in charge of taking the census in regard to the probable time the work will be completed and the results made public.

A recess was taken until 3 o'clock in the afternoon but upon the reassembling of the convention another adjournment was taken until today.

Six of the twelve republican members of the convention were present when the roll was called. They were Hopkins of Muskogee, Cobb of Sapulpa, Hudson of Henryetta, Asp and Tenkins of Guthrie and Sater of Stillwater.

OWEN HOLDS HIS FEE.

Doesn't Have to Cut the $750,000 with Other Lawyers.

Washington, July 11.—The supreme court of the District of Columbia has decided against Dudley & Michener, Washington attorneys in a suit they brought against Robert L. Owen of Muskogee for $10,000. The Washington attorneys claimed a fee of that amount was due under a contract said to have been entered into between them and Owen in connection with the claim of the Eastern Cherokees against the United States.

The claim was collected Congress appropriated $500,000, of which Owen is said to have received $750,000 fees. Owen interposed as a defense that under his contract it was necessary for the lawyers to prove their services in the court of claims, and failure to do so precluded any recovery. The court sustained the view of the defense and rendered judgment in favor of the defendant. Dudley & Michener gave notice of appeal.

GET THE "VET"

Don't doctor your horse, when you don't know how,
Or try your crude knowledge on sheep, hog or cow.
You will fail every time in effecting a cure,
While sickness and pain the beast will endure.

Don't doctor your horse, as some other man said,
And keep up the treatment until he is half dead;
Then finding that no good results you can get,
You have to call in the experienced "VET."

Don't doctor your horse until he's gone past all hope,
From the evil effects of injurious dops,
The neighbors may tell you of cases they've known,
But your horse will soon travel to his last home.

In a case too far gone, the "VET" can't save,
Or raise up an animal half in the grave,
But sent for in time, his experience and skill,
Saves an animal sick that your efforts would kill.

Don't kick on the "VET" if you get him too late,
No science or skill new life can create;
Don't curse the "doc" if his efforts may fail;
In disease gone too far, no methods avail.

In veterinary science, as in medical line,
Disease must be treated at earliest time;
When sickness has reached the last, fatal stage,
If the doctor don't cure, don't get in a rage.

SIX-YEAR-OLD GIRL TRAVELS
200,000 MILES.

Meets Pope and the President—Roosevelt Gave Her Flowers, but Leo's Reception Was Not So Effusive.

Boston.—With a traveling record of about 200,000 miles to her credit, the "Baby Globetrotter," as Miss Kathryn Leonore Adella Glenwood Moran is called, has made the announcement she wants to "go to housekeeping," adding she has traveled as much as she cares to and she now prefers to establish and remain in a home of her own.

Miss Leonore is only six years old, but she has visited more different countries and more inaccessible places than the average diplomat can boast of in a lifetime.

Crowned heads of Europe have recognized the little girl, she was admitted to the presence of the late Pope Leo XIII., being the only child under 12 years who was ever permitted an audience with his Holiness.

"I am," the pope didn't think much about me, though," little Miss Leonore admitted. "He was so old and I was so young, but I remember President Roosevelt very well. He seemed 'delighted' to see me, and gave me a bouquet of flowers from his library table and I carried them with me to have a photograph taken. We were at Glenwood Springs, Col., when he was out there on his big hunt, and our hotel was the executive headquarters. That is where I was born, and I think that of all the places I have ever seen I prefer Glenwood Springs to all others. You see, part of my name is 'Glenwood'."

"Yes, my name is rather long," little Miss Leonore said as she sat on a chair out of all proportions to her size and chatted about herself with a newspaper representative. The name under discussion did seem burdensome long for the delicate, dainty miss with blue eyes, who could talk with such familiarity of personages and places.

"I am sometimes called 'Miss Kathryn,' but I much prefer 'Miss Leonore,'" she said with childish sweetness.

While she has received unusual attention on account of her intelligence, the little "globetrotter" has not forfeited a winning childish manner and talks of her travels as naturally as most children talk of their toys. She has been interviewed for numerous papers and was the subject of an article in a Tokyo paper, when the only thing she was able to read was her own name. She afterward received about 50 post cards from Japanese children.

Miss Leonore is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Moran, of Chicago. Mr. Moran is one of the best-known newspaper men in the west and was one time managing editor of the Chicago Times. Like her father, the little girl inclines toward a literary career.

"I expect to begin to write as soon as we go to housekeeping," she announced, "that's one reason why I think that we should settle down. I can't do very much this way, you know. We are going to the Klondike this summer, again. Our trip over last summer was interesting. Beautiful flowers grow beside the snow banks, but I feel that I have traveled enough. I want to go to Glenwood and live quietly for a change."

OLD CUSTOM FROM GERMANY.

Goshenhoppen Reformed Church Dedicates 2,000 Graves.

Pennsburg, Pa.—A religious observance altogether new in southeastern Pennsylvania, and probably conducted for the first time in the United States, took place the other day at the New Goshenhoppen Reformed church. It was a service in memory of the dead, and the principal feature was the dedication of 2,000 graves in the graveyard with flowers.

The idea was suggested to Rev. C. M. De Long, pastor, when he visited Nuremberg, Germany, some years ago. One Sunday in June nearly the whole populace assembled in the cemeteries, placed flowers on the graves and then attended religious service.

All afternoon and next morning until ten o'clock the members of the congregation brought great quantities of flowers to the churchyard and placed them on the graves. When the time arrived for beginning the service the great expanse of flower-decked graves presented a scene of rare beauty. An appropriate sermon was preached by Rev. Mr. De Long.

Strange Bird Is Shot.

Knoxville, Tenn.—Inhabitants in the region of Zion's Mill, Lee county, Virginia, are greatly puzzled over the discovery of a strange bird in the mountains near by J. F. Witt, a merchant of that place. The bird is of great size, measuring nine feet from tip to tip. The feathers are perfectly white, except the tips of the wings, which are black.

Its head and bill are 18 inches in length, its webbed feet are seven inches across. A great pouch under its bill holds a gallon of water and this gives the idea that the bird must be of the pelican family, found in southern waters. It is supposed that the bird was driven to the north by a storm and lost its bearings. It will be brought here, mounted and exhibited.

GAVE ROAD TO AFRICA

JAMES STEVENSON, SCOTCHMAN,
DONATED $25,000 FOR WORK.Route Lies Between North End of Lake Nyassa and South End of Lake Tanganyika. Distance of 211 Miles.

London.—James Stevenson, a wealthy Scotchman, gave $25,000 to build a road between the north end of Lake Nyassa and the south end of Lake Tanganyika in Central Africa about 25 years ago. He was convinced that nothing would help more to develop Africa than good highways.

It took two years to build the road, and it was well built. Its length is 211 miles. Apart from the great usefulness of the road the white men there have always said that it has been a powerful civilizing agency.

It has helped to accustom the natives of that densely populated region to work for the white, and to use calico and other European articles. The work of construction was the first instance on a large scale of the utilization of native labor in Central Africa.

Many trained laborers now live along the road and engage in transport service between the two great lakes.

This highway is known as the Stevenson road. Mr. Chrapkowsky, an official in the German service, who recently traveled over the road, has written an interesting account of it.

He says that though nothing has been done to maintain the road built 25 years ago, it is still, with the single exception of the road between Victoria Nyanza and Tanganyika, the best highway in Central Africa. As nothing has been done to maintain the road, it is now covered with grass, but travelers say this is really an advantage, as the vegetation has helped to keep the road from washing, and it is also better for the feet of the carriers, who dislike to walk on those stretches where there is no grass, for it is as hard as stone and hurts their feet.

The usefulness of the road is proved by the fact that porters carrying 60

pounds on their backs make an average of 20 miles a day, while the usual journey is only ten miles. The road passes entirely through British territory, and the government has erected a station every 20 miles where caravans may spend the night.

There is provision at each station to put all the freight under cover, comfortable brick and concrete houses afford excellent conditions for a good night's rest, and there are cookhouses where the meals of the caravan are prepared. One of the neighboring chiefs is held responsible for the cleanliness and good order of each station. He receives a monthly salary of a few shillings from the government, and a few yards of calico from each caravan passing over the route.

GOES TO PRISON AT 81 YEARS.

Dangerous Counterfeiter Is Sent to Penitentiary at Advanced Age.

Philadelphia.—"Old Sam" Tate, said to be the most dangerous counterfeiter in the country, has been sent to the eastern penitentiary by Judge Holland for eight years.

Since 1872 Tate has spent more than half of his time in jail, and it is probable that his sentence will finish him, for he told the court yesterday that he was 81 years old. William Linker and Charles Hunsamonte, who were tried with him, were sentenced to 18 months and three years respectively.

Only last March Tate was on trial for counterfeiting, with George Ward, Michael Joyce, James Gaughan and Catherine O'Donnell, but by shrewd coaching of the other defendants Tate was acquitted. Ward, Joyce and Gaughan were sent to prison, and the O'Donnell woman, although convicted, was released in her own recognizance.

Tate put up a hard fight. His counsel declared that he was being "systematically hounded" by the secret service men; that he was a reputable junk dealer and that in the course of his business he had come into possession of the supposed counterfeiting material found in his house by the operatives.

NAMES SHIRT-WAIST INSPECTOR.

Mayor Busse, of Chicago, Appoints Female Garment Critics.

Chicago.—A "shirt-waist inspector" is the latest addition to the city hall payroll. Just what the remuneration and the duties of the inspector are to be no one exactly knows, but because Mrs. Ida Cross is displeased with a 69-cent shirt waist she purchased at a state street department store, the inspector was appointed. Louis M. Featherstone, whose knowledge of the secrets of the construction of the "peekaboo" and other shirt waists is said to be above reproach, is the first "inspector."

His appointment was made because Mayor Busse and the other heads of the city hall are too gallant to see one of the fair sex in trouble.

Monday afternoon, being bargain day, Mrs. Cross purchased a shirt waist that attracted her attention in a store. After taking it home her ideas changed, and she returned it and asked that her money be refunded. A polite refusal followed, with the explanation that the waist was slightly soiled. If Mrs. Cross would pay to have it laundered the company would be glad to refund the difference, she was told.

Appeals to the managers of the store proved fruitless; they gave the same reply. Having heard that Mayor Busse is a friend of those in trouble,

Mrs. Cross told him her story and asked his aid.

"I will appoint a special 'shirt waist inspector,'" he exclaimed. "Here, Featherstone, you know all about shirt waists, don't you?"

"Surely," replied the unsuspecting Featherstone. "Peekaboo, fancy and plain. Linen, calico or silk. Plaited—" "That's enough. You are now the official shirt waist inspector for the city of Chicago. Look into this."

Museum Gets 1800 B. C. Statue.

New York.—Theodore H. Davis, the archaeologist, has arrived from Europe, bringing with him one of the oldest relics in the world. This is an alabaster statue of Queen Teie, a famous Egyptian, whose tomb Mr. Davis recently discovered. The statue dates from 1800 B. C. It will be presented to the Metropolitan Museum of Art. Mr. Davis said that they worked three years excavating the tombs of the kings in Thebes, and it will be two years more before the work is completed.

"I was a good adder and that is the way I started in the banking business," is the modest explanation that Cashier Stella B. Pike gives of her association with the Norway National bank. "I soon found out, though, that it took more than an adder of figures to be a financier. But women are especially adapted for the banking business. We are by nature honest, and that is the thing that tells in a bank."

If there is not a preacher handy and a couple wish to get married, Miss Margaret A. Baker is the one whom the swain seeks out. As the justice of the peace she is permitted to perform the marriage ceremony, to acknowledge deeds and administer oaths.

This justice of the peace has a clever young sister, Miss Jennie P. Baker. She is one of the most capable business women in Norway, managing a large dry goods store, the proprietor of which lives in Portland. Miss Jennie is about 25 years old.

Caring for the dead is one of the necessary things of life. Miss Grace Thayer owns a large undertaking establishment and is licensed as an undertaker.

For eight years Dr. Annette Benedict has been the town physician.

The walls of the studio of Miss Minnie E. Libby are covered with such fine examples of photography that her art should have a national reputation.

The hotel women of this place are noted far and near. Martha C. Whitmarsh came to be the proprietor of the Elm house. She delights to tell of the times, 40 years ago, when the stage, with four, used to dash up to her tavern door. Mrs. Lizzie Woodman is the proprietor of the Beale house. Her sister, Mrs. Ella Tibbitts, was also a hotel keeper, but she has retired rich.

One of the biggest butcher shops in Norway is run by Mrs. Owen P. Brookes, whose husband insists that he never made money until his wife was behind the counter.

There are a couple of women among the large group of money-makers who attend simply to the growing of their fortunes. Miss Elizabeth H. Beal is a director in the Norway & Paris Street Railway company, and she is also a director in the corporation that operates the electric lighting and power for the village and adjacent land.

There is little or no crime in Norway. The town has not a saloon, and liquor is not even sold on the quiet. The men do smoke, but the women are hoping that the time will come, and come soon, when this "vicious" habit will not be indulged in by the voting population.

A Novel Church on Wheels.

Unique Chapel Car, With Bishop Hennessey in Charge, to Tour Kansas.

Wichita, Kan.—A chapel car, the only one of its kind in the world, has been brought to Wichita from Chicago. The car was made in the Pullman car shops at Pullman, Ill., a suburb of Chicago.

The chapel car will be in charge of Bishop Hennessey until next December. In this time the bishop, assisted by a priest and a cook, will tour the branch lines of the railroads through Kansas. He will stop at the towns and gather the scattered members of the church for the purpose of administering to them the sacraments of the church, instructing the young and lending financial assistance to the poor.

The first of the novel religious ceremonies in connection with the chapel car was seen in Chicago, when the small, convenient church on wheels was dedicated under the auspices of the Catholic Church Extension society by Archbishop Quigley, of Chicago.

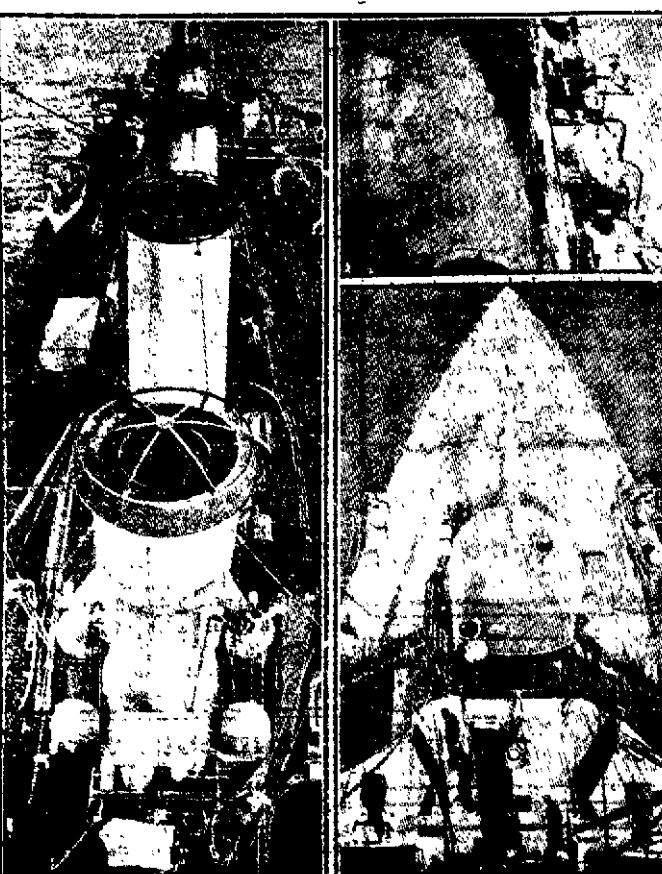

The "chapel car" is the gift of Ambrose Perry, of New York. Excepting the popes private chapel car, which has never been used, it is the only one of the kind.

The car was built on the model of the Pullman private car. It is fitted with the necessary accessories for travel. It contains two sleeping apartments, a kitchen and a library. The distinctive feature is the chapel, built to accommodate 50 persons. It contains an altar and a confessional, where the various sacraments of the church can be administered. The car, with its fittings, is valued at $15,000.

Historic Cottage to Go.

New York.—Summer residents at Easthampton, L. I., are disappointed to learn that the John Howard Payne "Home, Sweet Home" cottage there is likely to be sold within a few days to a Brooklyn man. He is expected to no alter and remodel it as to destroy its identity. When the wardens of St. Luke's Episcopal church bought the Payne property last year, some of the summer cottagers endeavored to raise a fund with which to buy the cottage, but without success.

WHERE WOMEN RULE.

NORWAY. ME., WORLD'S MOST DISTINCTIVELY FEMININE CITY.

Sex Supreme in All Vocations—Banks, Hotels, Post Office and Meat Markets All Managed by "Skirts."

Norway, Me.—Fills, fishelows and chuffon do the actual business of this bustling thriving New England town. In every line of commerce and finance, trade and profession, the gentler sex of Norway is successfully engaged, and it is the most distinctly "woman's town" in America. The women not only clothe, but and shoe the population, but they gracefully preside over meat markets, the post office and three hotels.

The women of Norway marry the living and bury the dead. Legal disputes are settled by a feminine justice of the peace. Sick and wounded are administered to by a woman doctor. The countryside is photographed by another woman. For 22 years the checks of the bank have been cashed by a small white woman's hand, while a quarter of a century is the period that a woman has swayed the morals, opinions and politics of the town through the columns of her paper.

A director in the street railway and the corporation that lights the village is a woman, and she attends each and every meeting of the directorate and gets her pay for attendance with the same regularity that old Uncle Russell Sage did.

Yet it cannot be said that the fair ones of Norway compete with the men. The latter are too gallant to permit of competition. They simply loiter back in their big comfortable arm chairs and admiringly tell what their women "folks" can do.

WINS FORTUNE IN ALASKA.

Miner Patents Piece of Ground Overlooked by Famous Company.

Slouty Falls, S. D.—John Johnston, a former resident of western South Dakota, according to letters which have been received from Juneau, Alaska, where he now is, has struck it rich and is in a fair way to become a millionaire.

He at present is having a contest in the courts with the famous Treadwell Mining company over a strip of valuable mining ground which the company was supposed to own but which it is alleged was never properly located. Johnston located the strip under the mining laws of the district and applied for a patent, but this was held up and delayed by various court processes until recently, when the application for the patent was granted.

The railroad of the Treadwell company, part of one of the company's great mills and some new oil tanks belonging to the company are all on the strip of ground to which Johnston has obtained a patent. The strip is between the big dividend payers of the Treadwell company, and it was a serious proposition to the company to learn that so valuable a piece of mining property had been overlooked.

In addition to this strip, Johnston has received patent for a group of copper claims on Koonseeoff island, for which he has been offered the sum of $75,000. He also has recently concluded a sale of some property on Douglas Island for $150,000. Johnston announces that he will make a visit to his old home in South Dakota this summer.

Man Takes Bride's Name.

Baltimore, Md.—Dr. Annie E. Copelan was married to Abraham E. Cope, formerly Abraham E. Cope, Dr. Copelan, who received her M. D. from the University of Maryland four years ago, has built up a fine practice. She loves E. Cope, but she did not wish to have her shingle lettered "Dr. Annie E. E. Cope, formerly Copelan."

So Mr. E. Cope, a student in the university dental department, decided that the best thing to do was to change his name to Copelan, and the courts obliged him.

Friends of the Copelans foresee confusion when Copelan, born E. Cope, becomes D. D. E. Suppose a man dislocates his thigh and hobbles to the Copelan office, "Is Dr. Copelan in?" "Yes. Which one do you want, your leg or your tooth?"

A COMMERCIAL CONVENTION

Retailers of the Two Territories Will Make Systematic War on Mail Order Houses

Oklahoma City, July 11.—Following the election of officers the three business organizations which have been in session in Oklahoma City since Tuesday morning and which combined have made up what is declared to be the strongest commercial convention ever held in the Southwest will adjourn at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

That the meetings have been the means of more closely affiliating the business men of the two territories is the opinion of the delegates. While it is said there will remain some unfinished business when the visitors leave for their homes it is declared a working basis has been established that will enable the members of the trio of great commercial bodies to accomplish many things for the advancement of the retail trade of Oklahoma and Indian Territory.

MANY MURDERS THIS MONTH.

A Dozen in Western District—Officers Use Caution in Arrests.

Muskogee, I. T. July 11.—When crime breaks forth in a section of Indian Territory it seems to become epidemic. Deputy marshals have long recognized this. It has been due in the Western judicial district. Since the Fourth of July there have been twelve murders reported to the office of Marshal Bennett at that place.

Notwithstanding the number of murders there have not been so many arrests made as might have been expected. When there is a murder unless the murderer is caught on the spot it is usually some time before he is captured. Immediately after a killing scrape the murderer has the killing fever on and he will kill a deputy marshal on sight. He is wary and his friends protect him.

After things have cooled down for a week or ten days an experienced deputy marshal can usually locate the man by friends in the neighborhood and place him under arrest without trouble. Besides it is easier to locate a criminal when he knows he is not pursued.

Deputy marshals know better than to try to arrest a man when he has the killing fever on unless he can get the drop on him.

MURRAY TO ROOSEVELT

In Personal Letter Pleads With the President to Make Known Objections, if Any, to Constitution

Guthrie, Okla., July 11.—Following the reconvening of the delegates to the constitutional convention yesterday, for the purpose of considering changes in the proposed constitution, President William H. Murray, read in open convention the following letter which he sent recently to President Roosevelt asking him what in the constitution that should be removed.

Hon. Theodore Roosevelt, President of the United States, Washington, D. C.
My Dear Mr. President—In view of the numerous criticisms through the republican press of the constitution for the proposed state of Oklahoma and the claim that certain provisions must be eliminated as the price of statehood I address YOU PERSONALLY this letter having on, to wit May 13, 1907, addressed a communication to the honorable attorney general requesting his opinion and whose reply was to the effect that his opinion could be given on your direction.

Your attention is called to section 4 of an act of congress of June 16, 1906 entitled "The Enabling Act" which after reciting that the constitution framed in obedience to said act should be submitted under an ordinance prepared by the convention at a date to be fixed in said ordinance. The third sentence in section 4 uses this language:

"And if the constitution and government of said proposed state are republican in form and the provisions of this act have been complied with in the formation thereof it shall be the duty of the president of the United States within twenty days of the receipt of the certificates of the result of said election and the statement of votes cast thereon and a copy of said constitution articles propositions and ordinances to issue his proclamation announcing the result of said election, and thereupon the proposed state of Oklahoma shall be deemed admitted by congress into the union under and by virtue of this act on an equal footing with the original states."

The enabling act, as you are aware contains a greater number of restrictions and limitations upon the sovereignty of the citizens of the proposed state than ever before required of a people in the history of the admission of states. Indeed it contains all the restrictions and limitations ever enjoined by congress before in the formation of state governments under the federal constitution and more. In addition to the necessary and proper limitation that the constitution shall not be repugnant to the constitution of the United States other restrictions are enjoined to wit limitations upon the power to tax certain property the fixing of the state capital at a certain point for a given number of years and the forming by congress of the five congressional districts—limitations never before required of any state. It is not our purpose to complain of these restrictions and limitations. We have accepted all these in good faith. Notwithstanding their acceptance the republican press is filled with numerous criticisms to the effect that the legislative apportionment is an outrageous gerrymander, and that other unnamed provisions of the constitution are repugnant to your idea of statecraft and that their elimination is the price of statehood. While we do not yield the point that a state in the exercise of its police powers or in the adoption of its economic policies is either expected or required to frame a constitution to suit either the executive or legislative branch of the United States yet in view of the uncertainties of statehood which have brought injury to the business interests of this state, and in view of your authority granted by the enabling act to withhold the proclamation granting us statehood, and believing in the integrity of your promise to this people on your trip through these territories, and that you would not further delay the blessing of self-government to one and a half million people, I, as president of the constitutional convention, respectfully request and solicit from you an expression upon the constitution, a copy of which is now on file with the honorable attorney general, and thus give us an opportunity to eliminate any provisions which will be necessary to secure executive approval in view of the fact that the convention will be reconvened on the 10th day of July, as evidenced by a call a copy of which I herewith send you, your expression of disapproval at this time would enable the constitutional convention to eliminate the objectionable features, if any, and would thus subserve the interests of every citizen in this state irrespective of party race or color. I assure you our citizens are committed to statehood as of first importance, and that party success or party advantage sinks into insignificance with all classes in comparison with the one thing statehood now and without further delay. It is with you, Mr. President, to state the cause of further delay and give us the opportunity to remove them. Since from your executive approval or disapproval there is no appeal we submit there can be no impropriety in your now stating your opinion on any provision of the constitution. Since your failure would cause you to do so later why not state them now and thus save us from further expense and our business interests from irreparable injury?

It being human to err we are prone to mistake and shall be glad to accept your superior counsel and advice in the spirit in which I am sure that you would give it for I am sure that it would be given in the spirit of friendly criticism and wholesome advice, rather than such criticisms as have come through an interested corporate and partisan press as we have in this state who condemn us without pointing out the objections and who persistently lead our citizens to believe that they have the promise from you that you will withhold executive proclamation without giving us the benefit of the knowledge which they claim to possess of the provisions objectionable to you.

You will observe in the call which I herewith send you that the undersigned has appointed a committee to take testimony and receive suggestions of any and all persons who attack the integrity and fairness of the legislative apportionment. The charge of "gerrymandering" is easily made but never in framing the legislative districts (which in a measure was a guess because of the rapid growth and increase in population of the different sections of our territory), did the minority in the convention make a request upon us. I assure you that the overwhelming majority of republicans in this state desire statehood although the machinery of the party is in the control of those interested it seems, more in maintaining the appointments than in serving the people, or even their own party are seeking by court proceedings the press and otherwise to create delay and increase the uncertainties to the detriment of the business interests of the state and to the injury of all classes of our citizens. Trusting that you will immediately state what it is in the constitution that should be removed if anything, and thus prevent further delay, I am, believe me,

Your obedient servant,
WM. H. MURRAY,
President of the Constitutional Convention for the Proposed State of Oklahoma

GERONIMO ON WAR PATH.

The Old Chief Wants to Help His Arizona Brothers.

Cache, Okla., July 11.—The old Apache warrior, Geronimo, who terrorized the west for many years with his blood-thirsty band, while attending a celebration at Cache, under parole as the guest of Chief Quannah Parker, made an attempt to escape across the Texas panhandle into New Mexico. Geronimo was missed from the camp for about eight hours, and a detachment of soldiers from Fort Sill captured him several miles out of Cache yesterday.

The warrior had heard of the trouble of the Apaches in Arizona who, according to reports, have threatened to go on the war path. The chief says he wanted to go to his people and help them fight.

Constitutional Convention Reassembles but Adjourns a Day to Await Committee Reports

Guthrie, Okla. July 11.—With 66 members present nine more than a fortnight the adjourned session of the constitutional convention met here yesterday morning. No business was transacted during the day, and after a brief afternoon session an adjournment was taken until 9 o'clock tomorrow morning in order that the democratic caucus might have time to complete its work on the reports of the kick and ordinance committees.

The feature of the morning session which commenced at 10 o'clock was the reading by President Murray of his letter to President Roosevelt asking for any objection the president might have to the proposed constitution. The ten-word reply sent by Wm. Loeb secretary to the president, was also read to the effect that Mr. Murray's letter had been received and filed with the attorney general.

The convention confirmed the appointments during recess by President Murray of the members of the kick and ordinance committees and Gabe Parker delegate from Academy county was appointed a committee of one to confer with William C. Hunt, supervisor in charge of taking the census in regard to the probable time the work will be completed and the results made public.

A recess was taken until 3 o'clock in the afternoon but upon the reassembling of the convention another adjournment was taken until today.

Six of the twelve republican members of the convention were present when the roll was called. They were Hopkins of Muskogee Cobb of Sapulpa Hudson of Henryetta Asp and Jenkins of Guthrie and Sater of Stillwater. On the floor of the convention were many prominent men of the state including both democratic candidates for United States senator, Robert L. Owen of Muskogee and T. P. Gore of Lawton.

President Murray reported a number of responses to his recent proclamation asking for funds to defray convention clerk hire. The majority of the checks received are personal subscriptions and range in amount from $1 to $10 although a few for larger amounts have been received.

OWEN HOLDS HIS FEE.

Doesn't Have to Cut the $750,000 with Other Lawyers.

Washington, July 11.—The supreme court of the District of Columbia has decided against Dudley & Michener, Washington attorneys in a suit they brought against Robert L. Owen of Muskogee for $10,000. The Washington attorneys claimed a fee of that amount was due under a contract said to have been entered into between them and Owen in connection with the claim of the Eastern Cherokees against the United States.

The claim was collected Congress appropriated $5,000,000, of which Owen is said to have received $750,000 fees. Owen interposed as a defense that under his contract it was necessary for the lawyers to prove their services in the court of claims, and failure to do so precluded any recovery. The court sustained the view of the defense and rendered judgment in favor of the defendant Dudley & Michener gave notice of appeal.

GET THE "VET"

Don't doctor your horse, when you don't know how, Or try your crude knowledge on sheep, hog or cow. You will fail every time in effecting a cure, While sickness and pain the beast will endure.

Don't doctor your horse, as some other man said, And keep up the treatment until he is half dead; Then finding that no good results you can get, You have to call in the experienced "VET".

Don't doctor your horse until he's gone past all hope, From the evil effects of injurious dops, The neighbors may tell you of cases they've known, But your horse will soon travel to his last home.

In a case too far gone, the "VET" can not save, Or raise up an animal half in the grave, But sent for in time, his experience and skill, Saves an animal sick that your efforts would kill.

Don't kick on the "VET" if you get him too late, No science or skill new life can create; Don't curse the "doc" if his efforts may fail; In disease gone too far, no methods avail.

In veterinary science, as in medical line, Disease must be treated at earliest time; When sickness has reached the last, fatal stage, If the doctor don't cure, don't get in a rage.

POLITICS AND THE CENSUS.

While Chief Statistician Hunt of the census bureau is getting ready to begin the count of heads in Oklahoma and Indian Territory, there is a curiosity to know if it is to be a fair count and the square deal or only a political census after the alleged fashion of the enumeration of 1900.

If the figures do not lie there are still many ways of making them accessible to falsehood. Texas, for instance, claims that the census of 1900 was made to lie about her by the simple trick of not employing enough enumerators to make a full count.

It has been pointed out by the Houston Post that in 1900 one-third more enumerators were employed in Minnesota than in Texas though a vast deal more of ground was to be covered in Texas and the population of Minnesota was not much more than half that of the Lone Star State.

In touching upon this subject some time ago the Post reached the logical conclusion that if Minnesota a republican state was not oversupplied with enumerators in 1900, the democratic state of Texas was woefully undersupplied. At any rate there is a persistent belief that democratic states were slighted and undercounted in the enumeration of 1900.

This is not the sort of political census that is wanted of Statistician Hunt in Oklahoma. The evident purpose of the enumeration being to ascertain if the democrats in the constitutional convention gettimandered the new state as much as the republicans would have done if they had been in the majority. Mr. Hunt should be careful to distribute his enumerators evenly throughout the districts and see that they count the republicans as zealously as they do the democrats.

Politics and the desire to discredit the work of the convention being the main purpose of this census Mr. Hunt should be careful to keep his work free from the suspicion of unfair politics. The Oklahoma census affords a good opportunity for practice in making a full, fair and politically impartial count of heads. It may save much trouble in the national census of 1910.—St. Louis Republic.

HISTORIC FORT GIBSON SOLD.

Famous Commanders Stationed There. Visited by Other Notables.

Muskogee, July 11.—The Town and Country club at Fort Gibson owned by Muskogee men has been sold at private sale to Frank J. Boudinot. The sale included the historic buildings at Fort Gibson that were built fifty years ago and occupied by the officers when Fort Gibson was an army post. Boudinot is a Cherokee and bought the buildings as a matter of sentiment. The consideration is said to have been $100,000.

Fort Gibson, July 11.—The town and country club at Fort Gibson owned by Muskogee men has been sold at private sale to Frank J. Boudinot. The sale included the historic buildings at Fort Gibson that were built fifty years ago and occupied by the officers when Fort Gibson was an army post. Boudinot is a Cherokee and bought the buildings as a matter of sentiment. The consideration is said to have been $100,000.

Another noted character of national repute who lived at Fort Gibson was General Sam Houston. History records that he resigned the governorship of Tennessee, left his newly married wife, went west and joined the Cherokees. He lived several years at Fort Gibson assuming the Indian garb of that time. He lived for a time with old Chief Johnnie Cake near the Arkansas river below the old fort. He was at times addicted to heavy drinking and was both feared and honored by the Cherokees who admired him for his learning and bravery. He married a Cherokee woman.

General Scott made several visits to Fort Gibson. General Robert E. Lee and General McClellan were also there on tours of inspection. Colonel Crompton commanded there when he was visited by James G. Blaine, his father-in-law who was taken ill and lay about six weeks in the stone house on Gibson hill now occupied by Jas. Coleman. General Atterbury at one time commanded there also. In the Civil war Fort Gibson was an important post and at one time contained about 1000 troops and was well fortified.

The noted American writer Washington Irving visited Fort Gibson and wrote his "Pilot" in a tent just outside the main grounds of Gibson hill. The beginning of the second paragraph of his book entitled "A Tour of the Prairies" reads as follows: "It was early in October 1822 that I arrived at Fort Gibson a frontier post of the Far West situated on the

In 1846 Longfellow, on a tour of observation in the West, visited Fort Gibson by way of the Arkansas and Grand rivers by boat. Next year appeared the book "Evangeline" descriptive of the scenery of the Fort Gibson country.

Frantz a Winner.

Guthrie, Okla., July 11.—With one-third of the republican county conventions held in the two territories to select delegates to the convention at Tulsa all but two of these counties have instructed their delegates for Frank Frantz for the republican nomination for governor. It begins to look like a landslide for Frantz. In all there are about 400 delegates at the present time who are instructed for Frantz. All but one county, Jackson has declared against the constitution.

While Major and Pottawatomie counties did not instruct their delegations Majors county being against putting out a state ticket both conventions endorsed the Frantz administration.

While it is easy for matters to take a decided turn and but few of the counties are heard from, Frantz supporters contend that the wind and the rain usually come from the same direction at the same time and predict a walk away for the governor.

OKLAHOMA NOTES.

(From Kansas City Times.)
The Fourth was celebrated at Duncan by the Rock Island piling fifteen freight cars in the ditch.

C. G. Jones of Oklahoma City is a receptive candidate for chairman of the republican state committee. He is friendly to Jake Hannon and does not want to interfere with Hannon's plans. Before his return to Guthrie from the div. land of Tishomingo, Alfalfa Bill Murray was offered what he was wont to call a "grasscutter" at the place where he has been accustomed to buy them. Nay nay not this time, make it a mowing machine with a 14 foot blade, he replied.

Bill Grimes told Dennis Hyman the other day as they swam in the Pacific that the wild waves sounded as if they were trying to speak Japanese or give an imitation of a republican caucus in Oklahoma discussing whether or not a state ticket should be nominated.

Republicans who are not entirely pleased with the prospective gubernatorial nomination of Frank Frantz are suggesting that Tom Ferguson would make a good candidate. What Ferguson would say about things on the South Canadian river would be for Alfalfa Bill Murray with astonishment.

One more Douglas situation—a long time ago however—that it would be a good thing for him to be nominated for the United States and if the republican party could find a suitable candidate to run against him.

How to Make It Work.
Says one change. If you want little money and then pay away your money, it is not a good idea. Short days will know that you were born. The man who gathers pumpkins is the man who plows all day and the man who keeps a humpkin is the man who makes it pay. The man who idles with a short and sudden kick is the man who blames the editor because it never works. The man who gets the business has a strong and steady pull and keeps his trade and paper from year to year quite full. He plans his advertisements in a thoughtful, honest way and keeps forever at it until he makes it pay.

My Lady Nicotine.

On My Lady Nicotine the people of the United States spend twelve times as much cash as spent on the ministers of its gospel. Our tobacco bill is annual, double that of our bill for public education or for all the literature in our houses.

We pay out more money for the fragrant weed than we spend for sugar. Every time we spend ten cents for bread we hand over four cents for tobacco.

All the gold coined in this country last year would fall far short of covering our smoking account by nearly $100,000,000 for we spend yearly for cigarettes, cigars, smoking and chewing tobacco and snuff more than $100,000,000.

The money paid by Americans for smoking equals the amount paid for shoes for our 90,000,000 inhabitants. Snickers burn up an equivalent in efficiency 10 times the sum burned up in fireworks. The vast fortune that we swap for the comfort of smoking, chewing and snuffing would build thirty structures like the national capitol at Washington.

Would Enjoin Cock's Crow.

Chicago, Ill., July 11.—"A law to prevent roosters from crowing at an unearthly hour in the morning? I don't know, but I'll see. Come in tomorrow."

Corporation Counsel Brundage thus assumed another case of state yesterday when F. Somerfield, 1317 Cornelia avenue, complained against the ungentlemanly bird who presides over G. Imhoff's hennerly.

"Every morning at 2:30 o'clock—'Yes, I know,' interrupted the city's legal adviser. 'I used to live in the country, and I'm willing to stop it if I can.'"

Somerfield will call on Mr. Brundage again tomorrow. He is earnest, and then the rooster bothers him.

Mamma saw a beautiful tree full of snowball blossoms awaying as if it would break and rushed out to see what was the matter. Her little boy, Johnnie, was up the tree shaking it as hard as he could, and the beautiful flowers were falling all over his brother who sat under the tree. She said: "Johnnie, what are you doing?" He answered: "I'm dust playin' I'm Dod and makin' it snow down on Willie."

The highest fall of water ever used for power seems to be that of lake Biwase in Switzerland, where is located the most powerful electric generating station in Europe. The water of the Poschiavino in the Poschiavio valley is led through a great conduit three miles long to the reservoir, from which five sets of enormous pipes conduct it to the power station at a level 1280 feet lower. Electric energy of 36,000 horsepower is distributed from the generators to plants along lakes Como and Maggiore and as far as the great plain of Milan.

In the King's Pockets.

Like every man who values the look of his clothes King Edward carries very little in his pockets except his handkerchief. In his waistcoat pocket he carries a gold pencil case, a cigar cutter, a little pass key, a gold watch carefully regulated by Greenwich time and half a dozen sovereigns. In his coat pocket he carries a tiny note book and in the winter he puts his gloves in the pockets of his top coat. The king never carries a cigar case except a gold case which holds one cigar but almost always has a small box of lozenges. Unlike his nephew, the Kaiser, he never carries a fountain pen in his pocket.

Mrs. Yeager having been absent for some time returned to her home. She was met at the gate by her colored servant Matilda Snowball.

Did anything happen while I was gone, asked Mrs. Yeager.

De Lor, I should say, Suffin did happen. We came mighty near havin' the biggest kind of a fire. Matilda, without her eyes around where.

In your bedroom, you once told me, girl, I was due when de fire started. If it wasn't for me, de fire de half house would have been burned down by de now.

So you put out the fire, Yeager muma. I dropped de lamp in de kitchen and de fire started. But de luck would have it I was due. If I hadn't been due when I dropped de lamp, Whoopie, de fire no tellin' what would have happened.—Lollands Magazine.

A railroad reporter declared in Up ton Sinclair's hearing that freight rebates were sometimes granted purely out of generosity.

Mr. Sinclair laughing exclaimed: "Admit that to be true and still your generosity is no better timed than Alkali Ike's."

A traveler arrived late at night at the Palace hotel in Tin Can and being very tired ordered his dinner to be served in his room.

As he was peacefully eating his beef steak, he heard a loud noise down stairs a bang an oath two very quick crashes, and then a bullet shot up through the floor and wounded the traveler in the leg.

Putting down his knife and fork he arose and began to hop about the room with loud groans. Suddenly the landlord burst in on him.

What did that bullet go to? the landlord exclaimed laughing. Oh, ah, ye hunt, stranger? Well, now that's too bad! Ye see Alkali Ike and Red-face Leary just had an argument over their liquor down at the bar, and fit it out fair and square. Redface fired first and missed and Ike—the all-fired generous cuss—he fired in the air—Exchange.

Oklahoma Exhibit.

Norfolk, Va., July 11.—The Oklahoma exhibit has been opened. It compares favorably with any of the other exhibits on the ground. Crowds throng to see it every day. The exhibit has a good location in the States' exhibit palace.

Oklahoma is the only state showing stereopticon pictures with lecture descriptions. Some 500 Oklahoma scenes are flashed on the canvas. This will be a big ad for Oklahoma.

The widow of Collis P. Huntington has informed friends in Washington of her purpose to reside permanently in Paris. With this object in view she is preparing to close her house in New York and go to the French capital, where there will soon be completed for her a mansion costing nearly $1,000,000. Mrs. Huntington was many years younger than her husband, who left her the bulk of her millions to do with as she might see fit.

LUCK OF FISHERMEN.

Two True Stories of the Rods—One Ada party lucky, the other not.

Two fishing parties of Ada people have returned home after several days of angling in waters reputed to be fairly teeming with the finny tribe. Rev T L Rippey and Dr H Brown, with their families, spent ten days on Creek, eighteen miles east of Atoka. Throughout their stay they had remarkable luck and a glorious good time. Besides a large number of unpedigreed fish they caught 116 bass, many weighing from four to six pounds and seven croppie. Dr Brown, the veteran of field and stream, is credited with the major portion of the catch.

Will Neathery, W H L Campbell, B C King and Howard Parker returned from an excursion down Blue river with a different story. They were on the finest looking water in the territory, they tried every sort of tackle and bait procurable, they raked the waters of the Blue for miles—almost to the Texas border—yet they hooked but one respectable fish. But they had some fun. In the Bohemian life of the camp Eddieleman established a reputation as a cook—he is an adept at scrambling fish rare, Parker learned to wash dishes so clean they didn't need washing any more. Campbell learned how to remove rusty taps and grease the wagon in the broiling sun. King is the driver and stump eradicator par excellence—to this the bruises on his and Eddieleman's bodies testify. Neathery got all the experience he could as major general commanding the camp.

Busy with Scavenger Indictments. The mayor's court is busy now—days trying and commissioning cases against householders some for ignoring and others for defying the scavenger.

The first ten complaints are about disposed of but the officials say another batch is about ready for the grind. If citizens don't clean up quick and get on good terms with the city scavenger a congested docket may be looked for in the mayor's court. And the worst of it is it will be such a dirty docket.

Didn't Do Much Good. Cus McElroy and Amos Hays have returned from Atkinsons with their team of Indian Bull players. By no means did they get the results of the trip. They started out for an extended tour having planned a number of exhibition games, but after one game on the Fourth at Beaver the company got disorganized to such an extent that there was naught to do but come home.

Double Thunderbolt. Mr Wilson who lives one mile north of Ada reports that during the thunder storm Tuesday afternoon his family was frightened by lightning striking the smokehouse. They said it sounded like two distinct reports of a gun. Upon investigation Mr Wilson found that lightning had actually struck in two distinct places on the building. The damage was slight and no one was hurt.

Coming to a swollen stream which they were told was safely fordable they attempted to drive the team across. In mid stream the flood seized angrily and men and animals were down the channel. Mr Harris' escape was almost miraculous. He is now in the hospital. The other man and his horses got safely to land but the horse died on down. Just a few days ago Mr Harris was hurled against a tree by a horse and seriously hurt. His brother F O has sent him word to come on back to Ada before he gets killed.

ARC LOFTIEST OF MINES Worked by Incas and Now to Be Opened by New Company.

It is thought that the old Cavalloma silver mine in Peru is richly situated at a great elevation than any other considerable mines in the world. Their altitude varies between 14,000 and 17,000 feet. They were worked by the Spaniards in the sixteenth century and before that it is believed by the Incas. An English company is now preparing a hydro electric plant for them. This plant will be situated at an altitude of 14,000 and 15,000 feet. It will derive its power from a waterfall on the San Pedro river and in a direct line from the Huallacho one of the sources of the Amazon. The power will be transmitted by cable about three miles. At the highest mine the water is about 100 feet above the level of the sea. It is about 100 feet above the level of the sea. It is about 100 feet above the level of the sea.

Hundreds of American women who now use it have expressed their delight and satisfaction.

WRECKS AND WASHOUTS

Traffic on the Frisco Seriously Obstructed—Morning Trains Arrive in the Afternoon.

Traffic on the Frisco has been seriously impeded today on account of two washouts and a derailment.

Several freight cars quit the track four miles north of Francis about 1 o'clock this morning, and the track was so obstructed that the 3 a m and the 9 35 a m southbound passenger trains did not reach Ada until after midday.

Also there was a washout of a bridge at State Line junction near Red river last night, into which an engine plunged. No one was hurt. The track was washed away below Woodville. The track was restored throughout, however, by noon, and all trains began to run. The morning northbound due at 9 35, is expected to arrive at 4 30 p m.

A washout is also reported on the M K & T near Atoka, which renders doubtful the time of the northbound's arrival this afternoon.

Patriotic Puppies. Beauty, one of E E Parnell's fine Boston terriers, is now the mother of seven beautiful puppies. The Boston terriers says Mr Parnell, is the only genuine American breed of the dog family. Considering this and the fact that the little fellows were whelped on the Fourth of July he thinks his should certainly be patriotic puppies. Their sire is Chauncey Boy, a noted prize winner in the East.

Cotton Abloom. O E Kendrick, one of Pontotoc progressive farmers, residing three miles north presented The News office with a cotton bloom this morning. The first appeared in his field as early as the 8th. Mr Kendrick says crops are very promising in his section—a good deal of grass but as yet no cotton pests to contend with.

WHERE WOMEN RULE.

NORWAY ME WORLDS MOST DISTINCTLY FEMININE CITY

Sex Supreme in All Vocations—Banks, Hotels, Post Office and Meat Markets All Managed by Skirts

Norway, Me.—It is in the bowels and depths of the actual business of this bustling, thriving, New England town in every line of commerce and finance, trade and profession the gender of Norway is successfully engaged and it is the most distinctly feminine town in America. The women not only clothe, feed and shoe the population, but they gracefully preside over meat markets, the post office and three hotels.

The women of Norway marry the living and bury the dead. Legal disputes are settled by a feminine justice of the peace. Sick and wounded are administered to by a woman doctor. The commissary is photographed by another woman. For years the checks of the bank have been cashed by a small white woman's hand while a quarter of a century is the period that a woman has swayed the morals, opinions and politics of the town through the columns of her paper.

A director in the street railway and the corporation that lights the village is a woman and she attends each and every meeting of the directorate and gets her pay for attendance with the same regularity that old Uncle Russell said did.

Yet it need not be said that the fair ones of Norway compete with the men. The latter are too gallant to permit of competition. They simply fall back in their big comfortable arm chairs and admiringly tell what their women folks can do.

The S. B. & S. Prince store is not only owned by two sisters, but everything in the shop is done by women. The only connection that a man can have with this establishment is as a purchaser.

Across the street from Miss Prince is a shoe store conducted by Miss Edith Smith. Miss Laura A. Sanborn can set the type, feed the press and set up the copy for the Norway Advertiser as easily as she can write its editorials.

I was a good adder and that is the way I started in the banking business. It is the modest explanation that Cashier Stella B. Pike gives of her association with the Norway National bank. I soon found out though that it took more than an adder of figures to be a financier. But women are especially adapted to the banking business. We are by nature honest and that is the thing that tells in a bank.

If there is not a preacher handy and a couple wish to get married, Miss Margaret A. Baker is the one whom the swain seeks out. As the justice of the peace she is permitted to perform the marriage ceremony to acknowledge deeds and administer oaths.

This justice of the peace has a clever young sister, Miss Annie P. Baker. She is one of the most capable business women in Norway, running a large dry goods store, the proprietor of which lives in Portland. Miss Annie is about 35 years old.

Caring for the dead is one of the necessary things of life. Miss Grace Thayer owns a large undertaking establishment and is licensed as an undertaker.

For eight years Dr. Annette Benner has been the town physician.

The walls of the studio of Miss Minnie L. Tibbs are covered with such fine examples of photography that her art should have a national reputation.

The hotel women of this place are noted far and near. Martha L. Whitmarsh came to be the proprietor of the Elm house. She delights to tell of the times 40 years ago when the stage, with four men to dash up to her tavern door. Miss Lizzy Woodman is the proprietor of the Beale house. Her sister, Mrs. Ella Hibbins, was also a hotel keeper, but she has retired.

One of the biggest butcher shops in Norway is run by Mrs. Owen P. Brooks, whose husband insists that he never made money until his wife was behind the counter.

There are a couple of women among the large group of money makers who attend simply to the growing of their fortunes. Miss Elizabeth B. Bell is a director in the Norway & Portland Street Railway company and she is also a director in the corporation that operates the electric lighting and power for the village and adjacent land.

There is little or no crime in Norway. The town has not a saloon and liquor is not even sold on the quiet. The men do smoke, but the women are hoping that the time will come and come soon when this vicious habit will not be indulged in by the young population.

A Novel Church on Wheels.

Unique Chapel Car With Bishop Henry in Charge, to Tour Kansas

Wichita, Kan.—A chapel car, the only one of its kind in the world, has been brought to Wichita from Chicago. The car was made in the Pullman car shops at Pullman, Ill., a suburb of Chicago.

The chapel car will be in charge of Bishop Henry until next December. In this time the bishop, assisted by a priest and a cook, will tour the branch lines of the railroads through Kansas. He will stop at the towns and gather the scattered members of the church for the purpose of administering to them the sacraments of the church, which can be administered in the chapel car. The car, with its fittings, is valued at $1,000.

The first of the novel religious ceremonies in connection with the chapel car was seen in Chicago, when the small, convenient church on wheels was dedicated under the auspices of the Catholic Church Extension society by Archbishop Quigley, of Chicago.

The chapel car is the gift of Ambrose Perry, of New York. Excepting the pope's private chapel car, which has never been used, it is the only one of the kind.

The car was built on the model of the Pullman private car. It is fitted with the necessary accessories for travel. It contains two sleeping apartments, a kitchen and a library. The distinctive feature is the chapel built to accommodate 50 persons. It contains an altar and a confessional where the various sacraments of the church can be administered. The car, with its fittings, is valued at $1,000.

Historic Cottage to Go

New York.—Summer residents at Easthampton, N. Y., are disappointed to learn that the John Howard Payne Home Sweet Home cottage there is likely to be sold within a few days to a Brooklyn man. He is expected to alter and remodel it as to destroy its identity. When the wardens of St. Luke's Episcopal church bought the Payne property last year, some of the summer cottagers endeavored to raise a fund with which to buy the cottage, but without success.

GAVE ROAD TO AFRICA

JAMES STEVENSON SCOTCHMAN, DONATED $25,000 FOR WORK

Route Lies Between North End of Lake Nyassa and South End of Lake Tanganyika. Distance of 211 Miles

London.—James Stevenson, a wealthy Scotchman, gave $25,000 to build a road between the north end of Lake Nyassa and the south end of Lake Tanganyika in central Africa, about 200 miles long. He was convinced that nothing would help more to develop Africa than good highways.

It took two years to build the road and it was well built. Its length is 211 miles. Apart from the great usefulness of the road the white men there have always said that it has been a powerful civilizing agency.

It has helped to accustom the natives of that densely populated region to work for the white and to use cash and other European articles. The work of construction was the first instance on a large scale of the utilization of native labor in central Africa. Many trained laborers now live along the road and engage in transport service between the two great lakes.

This highway is known as the Stevenson road. Mr. Chikowsky, in the local in the German service, who recently traveled over the road, has written an interesting account of it.

He says that though nothing has been done to maintain the road built 20 years ago it is still with the single exception of the road between Victoria Nyanza and Tanganyika, the best highway in central Africa. As nothing has been done to maintain the road it is now overgrown with grass, but Stevenson says that it is still in good condition for use. It has helped to keep the road in good condition and it is also better for the safety of the carriers, who dislike to travel in those stretches where there is no grass, for it is so hot and dusty and hurts their feet.

The usefulness of the road is proved by the fact that porters carrying 40

pounds on their backs make an average of 20 miles a day while the usual journey is only ten miles. The road passes entirely through British territory and the government has elected a station every 20 miles where caravans may spend the night.

There is provision at each station to put all the freight under cover, comfortable brick and concrete houses at good excellent conditions for a good night's rest and there are cookhouses where the meals of the caravan are prepared. One of the neighboring chiefs is held responsible for the cleanliness and good order of each station. He receives a monthly salary of a few shillings from the government and a few yards of calico from each caravan passing over the route.

GOES TO PRISON AT 81 YEARS

Dangerous Counterfeiter Is Sent to Penitentiary at Advanced Age

Philadelphia.—Old Sam Tate said to be the most dangerous counterfeiter in the country has been sent to the eastern penitentiary by Judge Holland for eight years.

Since 1872 Tate has spent more than half of his time in jail and it is probable that his sentence will finish him for he told the court yesterday that he was 81 years old. William Ingher and Charles Rustamonte, who were tried with him, were sentenced to 15 months and three years respectively.

Only last March Tate was on trial for counterfeiting with George Ward, Michael Joyce, James Gaughan and Catharine O'Donnell, but by shrewd coaching of the other defendants Tate was acquitted. Ward, Joyce and Gaughan were sent to prison and the O'Donnell woman, although convicted, was released in her own recognizance.

Tate put up a hard fight. His counsel declared that he was being systematically hounded by the secret service men that he was a reputable business man and that in the course of his business he had come into possession of the supposed counterfeiting material found in his house by the operatives.

NAMES SHIRT-WAIST INSPECTOR.

Mayor Busse of Chicago Appoints Female Garment Critics

Chicago.—A shirt waist inspector is the latest addition to the city hall payroll. Just what the remuneration and the duties of the inspector are to be no one exactly knows, but because Miss Ida Cross is displeased with a 69-cent shirt waist she purchased at a state street department store, the inspector was appointed. Louis M. Featherstone, whose knowledge of the secrets of the construction of the peekaboo and other shirt waists is said to be above reproach, is the first inspector.

His appointment was made because Mayor Busse and the other heads of the city hall are too gallant to see one of the fair sex in trouble. Monday afternoon, being bargain day, Miss Cross purchased a shirt waist that attracted her attention in a store. After taking it home her friends changed and she returned it and asked that her money be refunded. A polite refusal followed with the explanation that the waist was slightly soiled. If Miss Cross would pay to have it laundered the company would be glad to refund the difference she was told.

Appeals to the managers of the store proved fruitless, they gave the same reply. Having heard that Mayor Busse is a friend of those in trouble,

Mrs. Cross told him her story and asked his aid.

"I will appoint a special shirt waist inspector," he exclaimed. Here Featherstone, you know all about shirt waists, don't you?

Stately replied the unsuspicious Featherstone: Peekaboo fancy and plain. Linen calico or silk. Plaited—

That's enough. You are now the official shirt waist inspector for the city of Chicago. Look into this.

New York.—Theodore H. Davis, the archaeologist, has arrived from Europe bringing with him one of the oldest relics in the world. Mr. Davis said that they worked three years excavating the tombs of the kings in Thebes and it will be two years more before the work is completed.

BABY HAS A RECORD

SIX YEAR-OLD GIRL TRAVELS 200,000 MILES.

Meets Pope and the President—Roosevelt Gave Her Flowers, but Leo's Reception Was Not So Effusive.

Boston.—With a traveling record of about 200,000 miles to her credit, the Baby Globetrotter, as Miss Kathryn Leonore Adella Glenwood Moran is called, has made the announcement she wants to go to housekeeping, adding she has traveled as much as she cares to and she now prefers to establish and remain in a home of her own.

Miss Leonore is only six years old, but she has visited more different countries and more inaccessible places than the average diplomat can boast of in a lifetime.

Crowned heads of Europe have recognized the little girl she was admitted to the presence of the late Pope Leo XIII, being the only child under 12 years who was ever permitted to see the pope with his holiness.

When the pope didn't think much about her, though, little Miss Leonore admitted, "He was so old and I was so young, but I remember President Roosevelt very well. He seemed delighted to see me and gave me a bouquet of flowers from his library table and I carried them with me to have a photograph taken. We were at Glenwood Springs, Col., when he was put there on his big hunt and our hotel was the executive headquarters. That is where I was born and I think that of all the places I have ever seen I prefer Glenwood Springs to all others. You see part of my name is Glenwood."

Yes, my name is rather long. But Miss Leonore said as she sat on a chair out of all proportions to her size and chatted about herself with a newspaper representative. The name under discussion did seem burdened somewhat long for the delicate dainty miss with blue eyes who could talk with such familiarity of personages and places.

I am sometimes called Miss Kathryn, but I much prefer Miss Leonore. She said with childish sweetness.

While she has received unusual attention on account of her intelligence, the little globetrotter has not for feited a winning childish manner and talks of her travels as naturally as most children talk of their toys. She has been interviewed for numerous papers and was the subject of an article in a Tokyo paper, when the only thing she was able to read was her own name. She afterward received about 50 post cards from Japanese children.

Miss Leonore is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Moran of Chicago. Mr. Moran is one of the best known newspaper men in the west and was one time managing editor of the Chicago Times. Like her father, the little girl inclines toward a literary career.

I expect to begin to write as soon as we go to housekeeping, she announced. That's one reason why I think that we should settle down. I can't do very much this way, you know. We are going to the Klondike this summer again. Our trip up there last summer was interesting. Beautiful flowers grow beside the snow banks, but I feel that I have traveled enough. I want to go to Glenwood and live quietly for a change.

OLD CUSTOM FROM GERMANY

Goshenhoppen Reformed Church Decorates 2,000 Graves

Punishing, Pa.—A religious observance altogether new in southeastern Pennsylvania and probably conducted for the first time in the United States took place the other day at the New Goshenhoppen Reformed church. It was a service in memory of the dead and the principal feature was the decoration of 2,000 graves in the graveyard with flowers. The idea was suggested to Rev. C. M. De Long, pastor, when he visited Nuremberg, Germany, some years ago. One Sunday in June nearly the whole populace assembled in the cemeteries placed flowers on the graves and then attended religious service.

All afternoon and next morning until ten o'clock the members of the congregation brought great quantities of flowers to the churchyard and placed them on the graves. When the time arrived for beginning the services the great expanse of flower-decked graves presented a scene of rare beauty. An appropriate sermon was preached by Rev. Mr. De Long.

Strange Bird Is Shot.

Knoxville, Tenn.—Inhabitants in the region of Zion's Mill, Lee county, Virginia, are greatly puzzled over the discovery of a strange bird in the mountain cove near by. It was a bird of great size, measuring nine feet from tip to tip. The feathers are perfectly white except the tips of the wings, which are black.

Its head and bill are 18 inches in length. Its webbed feet are seven inches across. A great pouch under its bill holds a gallon of water and this gives the idea that the bird must be of the pelican family found in southern waters. It is supposed that the bird was driven to the north by a storm and lost its bearings. It will be brought here, mounted and exhibited.
